A HISTORY OF
THE JONATHAN CABLE FAMILY

This book was designed, designed and printed by Mrs. Milo Zimmerman (Hazel Cable) of 19213 Enolia Way, Canoga Park, California 91306. The reason for the gift of the book stems from the fact that the CABLE and FLORA families intermarried into the BOWMAN families. Also, Christian CABLE married Esther BOWMAN, daughter of John and Mary Margaret Daniel BOWMAN, of which family, Mrs. Zimmerman is a descendant.

JONATHAN CABLE HOMESTEAD

The house seen in this picture was built about 1880 by Silas Cable youngest son of Jonathan Cable. The original log house built in the Summer of 1811 was located on this same site near the old spring. This site was located about sixty rods East of the North-South State highway and was reached by a lane sloping sharply down the hillside. The large over-grown maple trees surrounding the house were planted soon after the new house was built. An orchard of many fruit trees was located between the homestead and the highway. A hillcrest was located West of the highway which divided the Eastern slope midway.

A high-contrast, black and white photograph of a building facade, possibly a school or institutional structure. The image is heavily degraded with noise and artifacts. On the left, there is a large, dark, textured area that appears to be a wall or a large window. To the right, there is a lighter, more detailed section of the building, possibly a entrance or a set of stairs. The overall image is very grainy and has a high level of contrast, making it difficult to discern specific details.

INTRODUCTORY TO SECTIONS ONE AND TWO.

Jonathan and Joseph Cable, the subjects of this family history, were brothers, sons of Jacob and Mary (Walker) Cable, who were pioneers in the North West Territory. Jacob and his brother Philip Cable both natives of Somerset County, Pa. dared to live among the Indians of the Ohio Valley. About 1797 Philip Cable settled on the West side of the Ohio River upstream from the present site of Steubenville, Ohio, where he built a block house at Cable's Ferry. In this block house he reared his family of four sons and one daughter--Ephriam, Benjamin, Samuel, Andrew and Delia. He became Judge Philip Cable and was highly honored. Philip and his father Abraham Cable served in the Patriot Army of the American Revolution. Before migrating West Philip Cable kept inn for a time in Mill Creek Township, Somerset County, Pa.

About 1800 Jacob Cable migrated from Fayette County, Pa. to Island Creek Township, Jefferson County, North West Territory, where he continued his trade of millwright of grain mills. Jacob and his wife Mary Walker reared a family of seven sons and two daughters-- Jacob, Benjamin, Jonathan, Silas, Isaac, David, Joseph, Elisabeth and Mary.

Ephriam and Joseph Cable were two of the very first white children born in the North West Territory--Ephriam in 1797 and Joseph in 1801. Both men overcame the difficulties of these early times and reared a worthy family line of descendants.

Abraham, the father of Philip and Jacob Cable, migrated from York Co., Pa. to Somerset Co., Pa. before the Revolutionary War. Philip Cable (Kebell), the father of Abraham, migrated from Saxony, Germany to Baltimore about 1730 and settled in York Co., Pa.

Jonathan Cable Family and its Name.

There is no definite proof of the European origin of this Cable Family but the early spelling of this name places its in Germany and the pioneer members of this family spoke the German language. Their family tradition classes them as "Pennsylvania Dutch". They spoke German fluently in their earlier days as pioneers in Ohio. This family left no written history of their origin or migrations. There seems to be no doubt their origin from the German immigrants who came into America through the ports of Philadelphia and Baltimore early in the Eighteenth Century. It is a rather fair assumption that this family came by way of Baltimore to Southern Pa. in the vicinity of Bedford County from which they migrated to Jefferson County, Ohio and thence to Pike Twp., Stark County, Ohio. They settled in that township about one mile from the present site of Sandyville in the Spring of 1812.

While living in Somerset County, Pa. this family spelled the name Kable, as was the custom of other German families living in other parts of the State of Pa. This county received a goodly number of German settlers as indicated by the naming of the town Berlin. Old inscriptions by this family used German script and German language as is illustrated on the frontispiece of this history.

After settling in Ohio this family changed the spelling of the name to Cabell as found in the will of Jonathan Cabell, dated 1845. Soon after the death of Jonathan Cabell in 1847 the name was always spelled Cable as was the English spelling of this family as found in England since the Norman Conquest. All markers in cemeteries in the vicinity of Sandyville, Ohio, use this English spelling of the name with one exception, that of a child who died in his fifth year and whose marker among the earlier burials of this family had the name, Charlie E. Cabell, carved on a white marble slab. This grave is probably that of a son of Jonathan and Elizabeth Cabell and one of that family not otherwise recorded. This marker has been broken and defaced making identification family relation impossible.

This name Kable is modified from the older spelling of Kabel in Danish, Dutch and German as derived from the French family name. This name Kable seems truly to be an objective name in its origin as contrasted with the family names of trade or occupational origin. The many variations in the spelling of this family name have been merged almost universally into the common English name, Cable. This change came naturally while the multitude of European and other foreign names amalgamated into the usages of the American dialect of the English language during colonial and later migratory periods of American History.

The final analysis of the activities of this Cable Family classes them as husbandmen of a hardy, thrifty type who loved country life with its endless toil and natural vicissitudes. Their early church affiliations centered totally in the religious doctrine of Martin Luther. The later generations of this family diverged from the life of farmers into all trades and professions accruing from the ever expanding social and commercial needs of the American people. Their persistent energy prevails in all branches of this family to the present generation of a widely scattered lineage.

To Cable Family Pioneers:

Hardy pioneers, you dared the Indian foe !
You sought a forest home 'mid every woe !
Within small rude hut your children slept
While wolves and fiercest beasts around it crept;
Scarce needs you widely sought before you found
By boating crooked streams to search around;
Huge forest trees you felled and burned
Where virgin soil its fertile yield returned.

No nobler life could history's pages crown
In records of brave deeds without renown;
The springs which poured out falling dewdrops sweet
Refreshed your lives and bathed your weary feet;
The forest trees sang out a glad refrain
As darkened skies shed drops of needed rain;
Renewed the vital sources of your streams
O'er which you plied crude boats with oars in teams.

The forests teemed with bees and birds and deer
While wolves and bears prowled stealthily and near;
With honey, filled the bees their hives, the hollow trees
While fishes swarmed clear streams and inland seas;
You ground your grists of corn and scanty grain
With millstones rubbing finer grain by grain
And turned them by streams flowing near the mills
So crudely fashioned near some rapid hills.

Your home-spun cloth in garments served you well
While spinning-wheels your happy lives tell
And tallow candles filled your huts with meagre glow
While Winter storms were drifting piles of snow
Among the rugged forest trees and every where;
O'er fields of grain white blankets spread with care
For sleeping plants till welcome call of Spring
Revives new life and hope in every thing,

Your friendly forest trees proved friends indeed
To warm your chilling bodies so in need
Of fire to glow within your huts relined
To shield you from the storms and wolves unkind;
From rain and melting snow by covers made
Of oaken clapboard shingles roughly laid
To keep out all but powdered sifting snow
While angry winds did sweep and fiercely blow.

Your meagre fare and homely household goods
Made life more godly and of friendly moods
While nature's ways gave health and happiness
To live in freer air and blessedness;
Thanksgivings real and full of tenderness
Grew into brotherhood of Kindliness
To calm misfortune's cries or human woes
Which only Christ, our Savior, ever knows.

Firesides of pioneers became their shrines
Endeared by festive days and hallowed lines
Not marred by dying embers of remorse
Or twilight shadows crossing Heaven's course
Leading to Promised Land of perfect love;
With ceaseless toil and worldly cares you strove
To bring God's Word its full and just award
And pawned your very lives in nature's ward.

INTRODUCTORY COMMENTS.

The following genealogical history has been compiled and written into orderly form to make permanent some family records and to outline the several groups of descendants of an Ohio Pioneer Family. This task has become difficult to fulfill after many years of dimmed traditions and unkept and misplaced records of an ancestry whose descendants have increased well towards the number of a scattered multitude. This summarizing of names, occupations, home locations, miscellaneous items and dates of births, deaths, marriages, and migrations has come to the lot of a great grandson after retirement from active service as a public school teacher and supervisor. This has been undertaken from a sense of duty and loyalty to a worthy ancestry, yet with a feeling of inability to meet the difficult problems of compiling a history so much neglected and so long forgotten. I am grateful to the many loyal contributors of vital matter without which this history would have been much shorter and quite incomplete. The following loyal persons of good will have contributed to the Jonathan Cable Family records in a generous way and, with few exceptions, these men and women are loyal descendants by birth or marriage:

Mrs. Hazel Cable Zimmerman, Mount Morris, Illinois.
Mrs. Laura Laffer Cable, Sandyville, Ohio.
Mrs. Elizabeth Cable Steiner, Canton, Ohio.
Mrs. Minnie Fox Cable, San Antonio, Texas.
Mr. Richard Cable Greer, Magnolia, Ohio.
Mr. Linden Flora, Huntington, Indiana.
Miss Edith Pearl Hauser, Beatrice, Nebraska.
Mr. Charles Chester Lee, West Salem, Illinois.
Mrs. Annie Belknap Deis, Dover, Ohio.
Miss Mamie Flora Pence, South Bend, Indiana.
Miss Elizabeth Jane Belknap, Anamosa, Iowa.
Mr. J.H. Ramsey, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.
Miss Nell M. Huckle, Dover, Ohio.
Mr. John W. Cable (III), Baltimore, Maryland.
Mr. Dwight S. Huckle, Pueblo, Colorado.
Mrs. Minerva McKinney Fry, East Sparta, Ohio.
Mr. Earl Snook, Billings, Montana.
Mrs. Carrie Snook Little, East Sparta, Ohio.
Miss Clementine Sweeney, East Sparta, Ohio.
Mr. Gerty M. Cable and Daughters, Sandyville, Ohio.

COMMENTS UPON THE CONTENTS AND TECHNICAL ORDER of this book.

Each family group is numbered for reference and use in the index instead of page numbers. Each number enclosed in parenthetical marks and written just below a group number refers to a preceding group for data not repeated. Each number preceding the names of children is indicative of a following family group number.

Pages of family tree outlines will be found with each second-generation group to trace branches of its descendants. These outlines may supply many names not otherwise mentioned in the write-up of family groups which lacked sufficient data for a family record.

Illustrative pictures will be distributed among the family groups in related order where possible. Such personal illustrations add a feature of individuality and kindly respect for the people whose lives are portrayed in words of life or death.

A copy of the will of Jonathan Cable will follow his section of written history to exemplify the thrift and parental love of this hardy pioneer of the howling forest of early Ohio History. The style of his will is preserved and may serve to exemplify the early customs of parental care for grown sons and daughters. His will typifies a heart of parental love and filial duty.

A few inspired poetic compositions will be inserted as found convenient to visualize home surroundings, migrations and other interesting incidents of history.

In-memoriam pages will reveal obituaries sacred in the memory of the families of this genealogical history and memorial.

The first page of this book provides a picture of the most cherished heirloom of this Ohio pioneer family. The engraved inscription contains the original family name and date of manufacture of the chest nicely written in German and German script. This chest moved with the family from Somerset County, Pa. to the permanent home of Jonathan Cable in Stark County, Ohio. It is homemade and was probably dated the year of his first marriage. This heirloom first passed to his son, Samuel Cable, who in turn passed it on to his daughter, Mary Cable. The author of this history received this prized antique from his mother's estate in 1920 and yet preserves it in his former Ohio home located in the very vicinity of the Jonathan Cable Homestead. It must be preserved by some well laid plan for the benefit of far distant generations of this worthy multitude of descendants.

Many sections lack completeness because of lost family records and inability to secure sufficient reliable data. The lapse of nearly two hundred years of time has dimmed many a page of genealogy and has made accuracy difficult in the context of this book.

Some typographical errors may be found and grammatical oversight while engaged in intense efforts to include essentials of a family record. Let critics consider the difficulties and scope of such work--then good judgment will modify all criticisms of words and forms.

The final pages of this book will comprise an index of names followed by the respective numbers of the sections containing their history. All names which appear only in the family tree outlines are designated by being followed by the full names of the related family tree outline enclosed in parenthetical marks.

101. Ein in der Weltgeschichte berühmter Mann

1. Jonathan Cable (Cabell) (Kable) (Kebell) (Kocbell) was born in Pa. 1
(probably in Franklin County) on June 15, 1782 and died in Pike Twp.,
Stark Co., Ohio just North of the Village of Sandyville, Tuscarawas
Co., Ohio, on Nov. 3, 1847. His ancestors were Germans who migrated from Saxony to America about 1730. This name seems to have been mutated from the name of Von Kobell as indicated by its different spellings. The "Von" was omitted as a matter of convenience. The other mutations followed in an effort to substitute a suitable spelling to represent the umlaut "O" as found in the original name.

The period of time from 1700 to 1750 was much unsettled in government and religion of Western Europe from which many migrated to America. That part of Germany West of the Rhine River, then known as Pallatinates, was especially disturbed during this period because of rival claims and possession by Germany and France. Protestants were persecuted and exiled. About 1730 many Cobell families migrated from Wurtemberg and Western Europe to the freedom of the colonies of America. Amsterdam and Baltimore were frequent ports of exit and entry.
The ancestors of Jonathan Cable entered the Port of Baltimore whence they settled in South Eastern Pa. After migrating Westward they settled in Franklin Co., Pa. The younger generation continued their migration Westward to new home sites in Somerset Co., Pa. From 1775 to 1830 many of the Cable Family migrated to Ohio where land was easily available among the Indian wilds of North West Territory and the State of Ohio organized in 1803.

The parentage of Jonathan Cable has been determined by means of the Cable Family notes of Mrs. Mary Cable Henry of Steubenville, O.
and the Cable Family files of Mrs. Hazel Kable Zimmermen of Mt. Morris Ill. both of which prove his family identity as an older son of Jacob and Mary (Walker) Cable of Somerset County, Pa. who migrated to Fayette Co., Pa. and thence to Jefferson Co., North West Territory.
Three Cable brothers, Jonathan, Benjamin, and Jacob, migrated to Ohio in the order named, and settled in the Bolivar-Sandyville area of Stark and Tuscarawas Counties of Ohio where they lived and died.

Since Jonathan Cable left no written family record of real history of his life, tradition must supply less concrete information.
Early in 1805 he married Barbara Specht of Somerset Co., Pa. of whose parentage family tradition fails to note their names. Many of the Specht Family settled in Carroll County, Ohio early in the history of that county. Jonathan Cable was a cabinet maker and carpenter as well as a farmer. From U.S. Census reports he lived in Shade Twp., Somerset Co., Pa. during the years of his first marriage, which seems to have been terminated by the death of his wife early in 1810 soon after the birth of Joseph her third child. His three young children were cared for by relatives, her parents or his brother Jacob till his second marriage in 1811. Early that year or late in 1810 he married Elizabeth Crise (Krise), daughter of Frederick Krise of this same vicinity. A little later members of the Krise Family settled near Mineral City, O. a few miles from the home of Jonathan Cable.

In the early Spring of 1811 Jonathan Cable migrated with his second wife and three children by his first marriage to Carlton, a small settlement near Yellow Creek, Jefferson County, Ohio, where his wife kept inn while her husband prepared a home in the wilds of Pike Twp., Stark Co., Ohio. During the Summer of 1811, Jonathan and a hired man built a log house and cleared five acres for the first sowing of wheat. After the wheat was sown Jonathan returned to Carlton to spend the Winter with his family. While building and clearing he lived with George Young an early settler in this hilly part of Pike Twp. often called the "Switzerland" of Stark Co., Ohio. Here on the North side of Sandy Creek he lived and died.

During thirty years of toil and thrift Jonathan Cable had possessed much real estate in the vicinity of Sandyville and Bolivar, Ohio. In 1836 Jonathan Cable laid out an addition to the Village of Bolivar on Poplar Street which now is a beautiful section of that town. He provided homes for each of his children at time of marriage.

At time of execution of his will in 1846 he bequeathed each of his children a part of his real estate and provided for his widow through her long years of widowhood which enriched the lives of her children. It will be enlightening to read the articles of his will as reproduced from official copy as found on pages following this section.

His life of toil and adventure came to its end before the proverbial three scores and ten years, having lived 65 years, 4 months and 18 days. His youngest son, youngest daughter and second wife resided with him when an industrious faithful father and husband laid down his life and passed family responsibilities and cares to his widow who successfully carried forward the family affairs for 36 years. His burial on the farm he loved was only temporary. His son, Samuel, laid out the Cable Cemetery in 1850 when his body was placed in its final resting place where the graves of husband and wife are marked by a gray granite stone in Greenlawn Cemetery, Sandyville, Ohio.

His widow, Elizabeth Crise Cable, was born in Somerset County, Pa. on Jan. 27, 1792 where she became his second wife late in 1810 or early in 1811. She was puny at birth but grew into sturdy womanhood. Her mother had died at her birth leaving her to the care of other motherly hands. She willingly shared her husband's responsibilities and hardships and mothered his children by his former marriage. Proudly she wore the crown of mother and family counselor till the end of her widowhood when life was laid down to become a cherished memory through the remaining years of one surviving daughter and four sons. She resided on the farm cleared and cultivated by her husband and herself, till Feb. 28, 1883 when her crown of family honor was laid down for rest and the peace of fulfilment of life's golden hours.

The family roll of two marriages is compiled as follows:

First marriage;

I. A son, born about 1804; died young.

3--II. Mary, 2 Feb. 19, 1807; died Oct. 31, 1871.

3(a)--III. Joseph, born Jan. 6, 1810; died -----, 1875.

IV.

Second marriage;

4--Barbara, born Oct. 7, 1811; died April 13, 1869.

5--V. Samuel, " May 11, 1814; " Mar. 20, 1892.

6--VI. Benjamin, born May 17, 1817; died June 1, 1888. 6?

7--VII. David, " May 17, 1821; " Nov. 28, 1893.

VIII. A son, " about 1824; died young.

8--IX. Elizabeth " July 17, 1828; died Sept. 26, 1908.

9--X. Silas " Jan. 3, 1833; " Apr. 10, 1916.

A marker with name---Charlie E. Cabell who died in his fifth year was found among family burials but family identification was impossible. This is likely the eighth child.

To their Generations.

May garlands of fond memories ever grow more verdant and blossom with the hues of a rosy sunrise which deepen into radiant tints of a scarlet sunset.

-----Obituary-----

At her late residence in Stark Co., O. on the 28th ult. Mrs. Elizabeth Cable, aged 90 years, 2 months and 1 day

Grandma Cable, as she was familiarly known, was born in Penn. When but an infant death robbed her of her mother. Left motherless, other hands tenderly cared for her. Having grown up to womanhood, she married in her native state Mr. Jonathan Cable. Like many others they sought a home in the West. Moving to Ohio, they stopped near the headwaters of Yellow Creek, where they engaged in hotel-keeping one year only. At the expiration of this time, they moved farther Westward, this time locating in Pike Twp., in the Southern part of Stark Co., making it their future and permanent home, where for seventy-one consecutive years, on the same farm and on the same spot of ground, she lived. At the time of their removal to this part of the state it was a "howling wilderness". Having purchased a farm in the woods, they soon had a log house erected into which they moved ere their house was completed. Here they began life in all its frontier ruggedness and realness. Strength and health, and a will to work, soon made an opening. Here in their Western home they were not forgetful to entertain the stranger. The Redmen here found hospitable entertainment at the home of the settlers. The needy, too, found sympathy and help. The years came and went. Death entered the home, and he who was father and husband was called from earth's life, leaving a vacancy in the family circle. Many long years the mother remained in widowhood, journeying onward alone to the end of life's race. And now her lifeless body lies beside him who long years ago fell asleep. The last hours of the Winter of 1883 will ever be memorable hours to the children who sat watching by bedside of a beloved and aged mother, the hands of whose life were rapidly running out. On the 3rd inst., the mortal remains of one who, by her Christian kindness, had won many appreciative friends, were solemnly deposited in the grave, beside her husband who many years since preceded her. There they sleep waiting the resurrection Morn, when they who sleep in Jesus shall awake and come forth. The funeral services were conducted by the pastor, assisted by Rev. D. Yaust, a long-known and intimate friend of the deceased. The services were held in the Sandyville Lutheran Church, of which she had for many long years been a worth and faithful member. The long concourse of people who attended the services evidenced the esteem and love with which the deceased was respected. Of her it may be truly said, "She came to her grave in a full age, like as a shock of corn in his season". Four sons and one daughter, and many grand and great-grandchildren mourn her departure--their loss her gain. She will be missed at home, in the church, in the community. As a mother affectionate and kind; as a Christian, conscientious and faithful; as a neighbor, obliging and sympathetic. May the mantle of godliness fall on those who follow after, her virtues exalted, her imperfections forgotten. May the God of all grace comfort the bereaved, and heal the wound which death has made, by the sanctifying influence of his Divine grace.

A beautiful March day laid a cheerful wreath of sunshine around her grave near the shadow of a column of gray granite which marks the resting place of our pioneer parents.

Old Homestead of Jonathan Cable in 1947.

The Wilderness of 1812.

Persistent spring that trickled from the Eastern hillside base
Had marked a site within the forest wilds a homestead place.
Its crystal brook flowed Southward down a valley near the hills
In widening course as wayside rills its channel fills.

On every side stood giant oaks proudly nestling maple, ash and beech,
Fragrant sassafras and wild-nut trees above some lowly dogwood's reach.
Spreading elms, sycamores and weeping willows fringed the creek below
Which slowly Westward crept and rippled there to meet the sunset glow.

Within this sheltered growth the wolf and fox became a wily snare
To stalk the rabbit, fowl or deer while feeding unaware.
The eagle screamed and wild fowls perched on branches overhead
While woodchucks dug their holes unscared and porcupines had little dread.

There Red Men's arrows pierced their hunted game which mother nature fed
When pioneers arrived to tame the wilds and claim a country stead.
But soon the woodman's ax cleared trees and tamed the beasts of prey
To sow the seeds of grass and golden grain to welcome harvest day.

Let the memories of this hallowed homestead cheer the hearts of all who follow.

b. Dec. 27, 1792 - d. Feb. 28, 1883

Cable Cemetery was laid out by Samuel Cable in 1810 and was transferred to Sandy Township in 1905 by its board of three trustees which had managed it for 55 years. It has since been enlarged many times original size and landscaped to make a more beautiful burial ground. Jonathan Cable was the first burial on this new cemetery by removal from his farm where his body had rested for three years. His second wife, Elizabeth, was buried beside his second grave in 1827.

The burial lots of Samuel, David, and Christian Cable are located in this cemetery very near the burial lot of Jonathan and Elizabeth Cable.

Mary Cable and husband, Daniel Flora, rest in Clear Creek Cemetery, Clear Creek Township, Huntington County, Indiana. This is a most beautiful churchyard burial ground.

Joseph Cable sleeps in the burial ground of Russell, Kansas. His first wife Mary Ann Exline was buried in DeKalb, Minn.

Barbara Cable and husband, Dr. B.S. Belknap, chose a burial plot near the Belknap homestead in the old Community Cemetery in the Village of Bolivar, Ohio. Their son, Siles, lies on this same lot but his grave is unmarked.

Benjamin and Susan Cable sleep in the old Community Cemetery, the original burial ground for the Village of Sandyville, Ohio, laid out in 1815. In this same cemetery many of the older Cable families were laid to rest where their graves are unmarked since their markers have crumbled away beneath aged pine trees.

Elizabeth Cable and husband, John T. Hauser, were buried in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Clarmont Township, Richland County, Illinois, a churchyard cemetery.

Siles and Margaret Cable rest in Westlawn Cemetery, Canton, Ohio, a burial ground noted for the tomb of Pres. William McKinley.

Mary Cable, oldest daughter of Jonathan and Barbara (Specht) Cable, was born in Somerset Co., Pa. on Feb. 19th, 1807. Her birth place must be located in a country home in the midst of that sparsely settled county so recently formed from Bedford County and adjoining counties. The settlers of this new county were mostly of German descent and lived in communities where trading for family needs could be done with country stores which exchanged goods for farm products. Mary's mother died when she was but two years old leaving her to the care of Jacob Cable and his wife, her uncle's family, till her father remarried late in 1810 or early in 1811. Jonathan Cable migrated to the settlement of Carlton, Jefferson Co., Ohio in 1811 where Mary was cared for by her step-mother who kept inn while her father was preparing a new home in the wilds of Pike Twp., Stark Co., Ohio. Early in the Spring of 1812 Mary moved to this new home where she was reared among the wolves and Indians of a vicinity of few neighbors living in a forest scarcely marked by roads. The forest had been cleared away only in small patches to produce farm crops to supply family needs. Schools and churches were not established until Mary had grown nearly to young womanhood. Hard work and crude home surroundings made up most of the early training and life habits of Mary Cable. On Mar. 6, 1827, Polly as she was called and under same name, married Daniel Flora of the pioneer family of Jacob and Magdalena Flora who migrated from Pa. to Canton Twp., Stark Co., Ohio in 1816 where they cleared away the forest and lived many years only a few miles from the home of Jonathan Cable. Daniel Flora who inherited a sturdy character from his father's German ancestry was born in Maryland on Nov. 22, 1805 and died in Clear Creek Twp., Huntington Co., Ind. on Sept. 14, 1854. Daniel Flora sold his share of his father's farm to his brother David on Nov. 24, 1846 and bought 160 acres of Jacob Lininger for one thousand dollars on the 3rd of May 1854. Mary sold her lots and house inherited from her father's estate and located in Sandyville, Tuscarawas Co., Ohio in 1853. Daniel Flora moved his family from Stark Co., Ohio by covered wagon in the Spring of 1848 and located in Clear Creek Twp., Huntington Co., Ind. on Section 17, Township 29, Range 9 East, being in the same township and and range as his father had bought in 1844. Daniel Flora was accidentally killed while moving a house on his new farm leaving a family of nine children to complete the farm improvements for his wife who survived till Oct. 31, 1871 when she was laid to rest beside her husband in Clear Creek Cemetery. It must be said in praise of both Cable and Flora families that they were sturdy and industrious pioneers. Their children were all born in Stark Co., Ohio only a few miles South of the City of Canton. Soon after the death of their mother, three sons William, David and Joseph moved to the vicinity of Kalamazoo, Michigan where they lived and died, leaving many of Flora descendants since their arrival in Michigan in 1873. After the death of both parents, only daughter Anna Elizabeth, Sons Samuel Cable and Harmon, the family scattered far from the old Clear Creek homestead but many of this family are buried in the Clear Creek Cemetery. A good aerial picture of this beautiful old church-yard cemetery will be included in this family history as a token of honor and respect to their memory and the multitude of descendants they left in a long line of following generations born on the branches of the Flora Family tree.

On the following page the family record of eight sons and one daughter will appear in order of birth and with nearly complete record of birth and death:

In Remembrance:

Westward, ever Westward, they migrated through

To plant the seed of the family tree anew;

Maryland, "My Maryland", saw early life begin

And Pennsylvania's mountains once sheltered them within;

Stark County's "Switzerland" sustained our pioneers

Till "Westward Ho" next called them with its cheers;

Indiana's marsh lands soon yielded thrift from toil

Where they now sleep enshrined by friendly soil.

Early Generations of the Flora Family

--- in --- America.

The Flora Family are of German origin and came to America from Wittenburg, Germany early in the Eighteenth Century.

George Flora and his brother settled near Baltimore, Md. when that city was in its early history. Soon after coming to America one brother died leaving George to carry the family name down into many generations of this sturdy family line. George Flora married and reared sons and daughters who have settled in Northern and Southern states where descendants are found widely scattered.

Jacob Flora, probably a younger son of George Flora, migrated to Franklin County, Va. where he married about 1802 before he settled in Somerset County, Pa. where the older children were born. In 1816 he migrated to Stark County, Ohio where his family grew to maturity. In 1844 he migrated to Clear Creek Township, Huntington County, Ind. with his sons David and Daniel where he died a few years later.

Joseph Cable
(30(1))

3a)
(1) Joseph Cable, born in Shade Twp., Somerset County, Pa. on Jan. 6, 1810, was a son of Jonathan and Barbara (Specht) Cable whose Cable family line of descent was typical Saxon, having migrated from Saxony, Germany early in the Eighteenth Century, A.D. Joseph Cable followed the life of a pioneer farmer as was the habit of his ancestors after coming to America. In 1838 and 1839 Joseph left the farm for a short time to keep store in Sandyville, Ohio.

Joseph's mother died soon after his birth when he and his sister Mary were cared for by relatives for nearly one year. Jonathan Cable married Elizabeth Krise about the New Year of 1811. A step-mother then took over the care of a home and two young children whom she mothered and reared as her own. Early in the Spring of 1811 this new Cable family migrated to Jefferson County, Ohio. When the Spring of 1812 came the family again migrated by horse and wagon to a new home among the Indians of Pike Twp., Stark Co., Ohio, where Joseph lived till 1840 with his father's family. On Jan. 23, 1840 he married Mary Ann Exline, daughter of Adam H. and Marianna (Waltman) Exline. The Exline Family were of German origin and spelled the name "Oeschslein" while living in Bedford Co., Pa. At the time of the U.S. census of 1840 Joseph and his wife were living with his father's family. Joseph and his family lived in the vicinity of Sandyville, Tuscarawas Co., Ohio, till after the death of his father in 1847 and settlement of his father's estate of which Joseph and his brother Samuel were executors.

In 1848 Joseph sold his home in Sandyville to John Dickson-- a home inherited from his father's estate. It was then that he with a wife and two sons migrated to Liberty Twp., Van Wert Co., Ohio, where he settled on undeveloped land requiring clearing and draining ---rich black-swamp land of Western Ohio. His brother Samuel Cable helped him with the financing of two tracts of land-- lot 234 on Oct. 16, 1855 and lot 235 on Dec. 31, 1855. It was here that two daughters were born--Emma Jane and Elizabeth Ann.

On April 29, 1867 Joseph sold his farm south of Van Wert, O. and soon afterward migrated to Green Lake Twp., Kandiyohi County, Minn. and settled on land now a part of Spicer, Minn. Here Joseph and his family continued their life as pioneers and were honored by their neighbors. Joseph and his son, George W. were elected at different times to public office in town and township. In 1868 Joseph donated land for the Spicer Cemetery just west of town. Other portions of this same land now forms a part of the Village of Spicer. The home in which he lived was converted into a store after he moved to Kansas.

On Nov. 6, 1868 Joseph's wife died and was buried in the Spicer Cemetery. She was born in Bedford County, Pa. on Feb. 12, 1819. Her span of life was short-- 48 yr, 8 mo. and 26 days. She was married by Rev. E. Greenwald, Lutheran Minister of Tuscarawas County, Ohio on Jan. 23, 1840. The grave of Mary Ann Cable is unmarked and is the only burial on the Joseph Cable lot as shown by the map of the Spicer Cemetery.

On Dec. 15, 1874 Joseph Cable married Elizabeth (Harbaugh) Tinney, daughter of Thomas and Anna Mary (Exline) Harbaugh and widow of John Tinney. At his second marriage Joseph Cable became stepfather to Lavina Tinney who was born on Dec. 16, 1866 and married August Beese of Fostoria, Ohio, on May 14, 1892--a marriage without children.

1875 Joseph Cable moved his family overland to Bunker Hill, Russell County, Kansas, where he took up a homestead near Exline relatives. His life was brief after his arrival in the Prairie State. This industrious Saxon had staked off his last claim and died a few weeks after he and his family had settled down to toil in the rich fields of the state where bison and prairie grass abounded. His remains were placed in the kind lap of the prairie soil in Russell Cemetery where the Joseph Cable lot now contains the last mortal remnants of his son, George W. Cable and his daughter, Emma Jane Cable. Upon this lot will be found a U.S. Government Stone honoring the services of George W. Cable in the Civil War.

After Joseph's death his second wife returned to Lima, Ohio, taking Lavina Tinney with her. The two sons and two daughters of Joseph and Mary Ann Cable paid out the claim and made for themselves. This Cable Family Bible is now in possession of Mrs. Melissa B. Cable, widow of Charles Franklin Cable of Russell, Kansas. Its records of births are complete but other records were neglected after a mother's love ceased in death and family ties were severed, the inevitable strain of nature's laws. It may be repeated here that mother remains the true nucleus around which family life adheres as a unit of love and respect. Mother love is the magnet of happy consecrated family life.

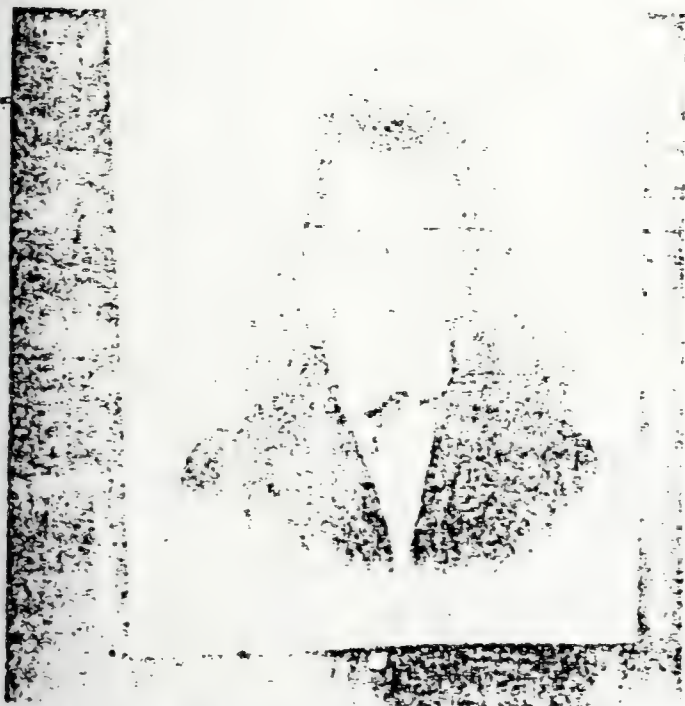

Here is an incomplete record:

- I. George Washington, born near Sandyville, Tuscarawas Co., Ohio, on Oct. 27, 1840; died near Bunker Hill, Kansas on , 1900. He enlisted for the Union Army for three years on Aug. 4, 1862; he was mustered into the army at Camp Lima, Ohio on Aug. 26, 1862; he served in Co. A. 99th O.V.I. and was transferred on Dec. 31, 1864 to Co. G. , 50th O.V. Unit to serve out his enlistment. He was wounded in the Battle of Chickamauga, Tenn. He was honorably discharged as private on June 26, 1865 at Salisbury, North Carolina. He proved to be a real corner stone to the Joseph Cable Family. He was honored by the people of Green Lake Twp., Kandiyohi Co., Minn. by his election to public office. He never married. His burial place in Russell Cemetery is marked by a U.S. Civil War marker which contains no individual dates.
- II. Josiah Franklin, born near Sandyville, Tuscarawas Co., Ohio, on Oct. 7, 1843. He never married. For this account his life and death seem less accurate than some unlettered Muse. As the family separated after the death of his father he chose life in the wilds of the far West. Exline Family historians report his migration to Arizona where he spent his last years and died in Phoenix, Ariz. on 1918. The State of Arizona has no record of his death or burial.
- III. Emma Jane, born in Liberty Twp., Van Wert Co., Ohio, on Oct. 15, 1850; died on Jan 23, 1934 in Russell, Kansas. Her burial was on the family lot in Russell Cemetery. She never married through the many years that family cares fell to her lot by death of both parents. With love and care she mothered her nephew, Charles Franklin Cable, till he grew to manhood.
- 20(a) --IV. Elizabeth Ann, born in Liberty Twp., Van Wert Co., Ohio, on Oct. 21, 1858; died 19 .

GENEALOGICAL CHART

4. Barbara Cable, daughter of Jonathan and Elizabeth (Criss) Cable, was born in Carlton, Jefferson County, O. on Oct. 7, 1811 where her parents were keeping inn on the route of the Westward migration of settlers moving into interior of Ohio admitted as a state in 1803. Carlton was then a small rural community which soon lost its identity as a town located near the present town of Yellow Creek, O. Many settlers were crossing the Ohio River near present site of Steubenville on their way West across Penn. from ports of entry in Baltimore and Philadelphia. In the Early Spring of 1812 Barbara's parents moved to a new forest home among the hills of Pike Twp., Stark Co., Ohio where a log house had been made the previous Summer by Jonathan Cable and his hired hand. This was a long and difficult move through the forest yet inhabited by treacherous Indians so hostile just at time of War of 1812. They moved by horse and wagon up the Yellow Creek Valley across the hills to Sandy Creek Valley where they crossed the creek at Downing's Ford a short distance from their new home on the Northern slope of this beautiful valley. In a rude log house Barbara often slept while her parents were clearing the land for the production of food for their family which grew in numbers and became thrifty year by year. Here Barbara received only meagre opportunities of education and limited chance at social advancement. Indian neighbors often made visits to this pioneer home to barter with her parents. As she approached her 21st birthday in 1832 she married Dr. Bissell Sydney Belknap who was born in Vermont on Sept. 1, 1798. David and Jane (Ayers) Belknap were the parents of Dr. Belknap who had come to Adena, Ohio with his parents in the early of 1800. These English immigrants to New England experienced many of the hardships of these colonial times. Barbara and her doctor husband established their home near Bolivar, Ohio, where they reared a worthy family and resided during their whole family life. Their home was a beautiful farm where Dr. Belknap had a large country practice of medicine. He was noted for his ability in treatment of fevers so prevalent in those early days near rivers and marshy lands. The farm home was provided by her father as was his custom to provide for his sons and daughters at time of marriage. Barbara Belknap and her husband were highly respected and widely known among a wide circle of friends and relatives. It was another recurrent event that husband and wife were laid to rest in the short space of a year; Dr. Bissell Sydney Belknap on Sept. 27, 1868 and Barbara Belknap on Apr. 13, 1869. They sleep in the Lab Cemetery near the Village of Bolivar, O. and almost at the portal of the home they loved and cherished. Their burial plot is marked by a substantial granite stone. Their three sons and one daughter were all born on this farm homestead and reared under comfortable circumstances:

- 21--I. David, born Jan. 31, 1833; died Aug. 9, 1890.
- 22--II. Joseph, " Jan. 8, 1835; " Dec. 1, 1912.
- 23--III. Cable, " Mar. 19, 1838; " July 1, 1917.
- 24--IV. Elizabeth Jane, born Aug. 26, 1842; died May 2, 1929.

Lines in Remembrance:

Their dear old homestead near Tuscora has its sacred hold
But the changes all around it tells a newer story than of old;
Old canal and boats have vanished since they sleep among the dead;
Old Fort Laurens has her name in bolder letters told
But her Indian attackers never show a savage head;
Yet the river marks the valley as it did in days of old
But its flow has been bridled by the active hand of man.
Sleep in peace, my dear kinsfolk, near your dear old family fold
While its memories ever whisper, Happy days within your clan !

Samuel Cable

Samuel Cable

Samuel Cable, oldest son of Jonathan and Elizabeth (Criss) Cable, was born in Pike Twp., Stark Co., Ohio on the 11th of May, 1814 in a rude log house his father built in the summer of 1811 from the logs of the trees felled while making his first clearing in the native forest. His birth was lowly in this forest country where few neighbors lived at distant clearings where hardships were many and schools and churches were yet to be founded. American Indians yet inhabited this wild forest land and often came to trade venison for salt. His first spoken language was the German tongue which soon gave way to the use of English as taught in the log cabin schools of pioneer days. His school advantages never exceeded that of the very elementary type. In many ways he resembled his father not only physical features but in will to work and persevere. He remained in his father's home till mature years had developed him for his marriage in 1842 to Agnes, the daughter of David and Margaret (Wagoner) Evans whose daughter, Agnes, was born in this same pioneer country on Jan. 24, 1824 and died in prime of life on Feb. 24, 1863, just ten days after the birth of her son William S. Samuel Cable was a thrifty farmer who built a good home on the East portion of his father's land. Here he reared his family in a comfortable house built over a constant flowing spring which provided water for all uses and helped preserve the family food by its cooling refreshing stream. An out-kitchen with its wood supply in rear portion became the family dining room as well as the shop of cookery. From this out-kitchen a wide flight of steps led to the basement of the main building where spring water and other supplies of food were obtained. At time of Civil War, he mounted his favorite horse and rode away with a gun on his shoulder to help to capture Morgan on his raid into Ohio. His money in form of paper was hidden under the parlor carpet during his absence with instruction to his family to divide equally his estate in case he never returned.

Samuel Cable engaged in general store business in Pierce, Ohio (Now East Sparta) about 1875. In 1880 he owned the grist mill in the same town and soon after sold it to John Swan. He was well known as a man of means who helped many a friend with financial loans and thereby was called "Uncle Sam".

He was one of the founders and builders of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Sandyville, O. where he worshiped and confessed his faith in one true God as the Creator of the universe and man with the earth as his heritage. He died in Canton, O. on Mar. 20, 1892 while living with his granddaughter, Loretta (Williams) Cogan. His burial place is in the Cable Cemetery which he laid out in 1850 and which was afterward donated to the community of his birth. His wealth had been liberally distributed among his daughters as they founded homes for their families.

His family record follows:

His Bible from his father is possessed by Mrs. Prudence Wright of North Hollywood, Calif. He was a jolly lad who found great pleasure in squirrel hunting.

Benjamin Cable

b. April 14, 1817 - d. June 1, 1886

Benjamin Cable, second son of Jonathan and Elizabeth (Crise) Cable, was born April 14, 1817 in a Pike Twp., Stark Co., O. pioneer home made with logs sawed and shaped from the trees felled while clearing the forest away for first sowing of wheat. He was born amid the wilds of Ohio where few advantages of civilization had entered. His life and the comforts of childhood depended upon the health, thrift and skill of his parents to ward off sickness and dangers of pioneer living. As he grew to manhood his school advantages were very poor and the Bible teaching became the responsibility of his parents. The wild life of the forest and crude method of living taught many lessons of thrift and self-reliance. The true value of toil furnished the needed key to essentials right road to successful country living and family responsibilities. Holidays and centers of recreation were hardly known in those early days of colonial customs. He became a loyal son and helper during his years of life in his father's home till his marriage on Mar. 22, 1842. His wife, Susan Welty, daughter of John Welty, was born in the same year as her husband but outlived him by nearly nineteen years. The family marker in the Community Cemetery in Sandyville, O. shows the dates for husband and wife as 1817--1888 and 1817--1907. They were typical farm folks and founded their home on the Northern border of Sandy Twp., Tuscarawas Co., Ohio on a farm bordering the Northern side of Sandy Creek where fertile sandy soil produced an abundance. They were church-going folks after establishment of churches in their vicinity. The Evangelical Lutheran Church became the family shrine and was supported by them and all other Cable families with liberal hands. The farm home of Benjamin Cable was well preserved and pictures the success and thrift of his family. He was generous with his sons and daughters when they founded homes for their families. The youngest son, Welty B. Cable possessed the old homestead till some time after the death of his mother and unmarried sister, Ellenora. Except Joseph all Jonathan Cable sons settled near their father's home and remained there till time of retirement or death.

His family record contained an equal number of sons and daughters:

- 32--I. Ellenora,³ born 1843; died 1912; unmarried.
- 33--II. John W. " Oct. 19, 1844; " Dec. 5, 1915.
- 34--III. Alice Elizabeth, Born Nov. 22, 1846; died Jan. 9, 1905.
- 35--IV. Hiram C., born Jan. 2, 1852; died Jan. 12, 1934.
- V. Ida R., " 1854 " 1856.
- 37--VI. Welty B., " Feb. 6, 1859.

Lines in Remembrance:

Lest we forget and ne'er recall our sacred pledge of honor,
 Be faithful, soul, and keep truth's banner ever waiving o'er us;
 Pray for the hand of God to lead thy steps to Heaven's shore;
 Renew thy pledge to follow holy precepts God made thus,
 Just now, forever and a day.
 Tread near true lines marked out by saints along thy way;
 Stray neither right nor left but truth alone obey.
 True faith must ever lead thy wandering feet and erring heart aright
 And banish darkness with its beams of morning light.

7. David Cable was born on May 17, 1821 on the farm where his parents, Jonathen and Elizabeth (Crisie) Cable had settled in the Spring of 1812 among the hills of Pike Twp., Stark Co., Ohio. At this time the neighborhood was yet almost a wilderness with few neighbors living in clearings widely scattered in the primeval forest. Here the family enjoyed nature's liberty as nature had planned for the pioneers till civilization arose to subdue the forest with its bountiful supplies of fertile soil and animal wealth stored through the ages for man's use and habitation. The forest home of this pioneer family lay in a narrow valley sloping to the South into the Sandy Creek Valley where the Village of Sandyville located a little more than a mile away was just beginning to assume the nature of a town. A log school and church were just being built in the village to be first educational and religious advantages of this community founded in the vast expanse of the American wilderness. The forest round-about furnished an ample supply of nuts, honey from the hollow trees, and medical herbs and roots while clear pure streams were fully stocked with fishes to supply needed meat for family use when supplemented with other wild game. Under these surroundings David grew into a sturdy man and became a loyal son and helper in his father's home. He had learned the true lessons of toil and nature's call to happiness amid the resources of this virgin land.

Aug. 8, 1844, David married Margaret Evans, Daughter of David Margaret (Wagoner) Evans at the home of the bride's parents who were worthy pioneers. Margaret was born, Aug. 16, 1826, in this vicinity called the "Switzerland of Stark County". David and his wife founded their home on the Western end of the land of Jonathen Cable near a spring of running water the life giver to a pioneer home. Here they toiled and reared their family, the largest group of the Jonathen Cable grandchildren of whom all gave a splendid account of life's goals. The house nestled on the Southern slope of a row of hills overlooking the beautiful Sandy Creek Valley. They were thrifty farm folks who honored God in worship in the Lutheran Church of the near village which became the community center after a few years of development. After their family had grown and married they retired to a new home just across the county line into Tuscarawas County where they spent their reclining years in contentment. David died Nov. 28, 1893 and his wife survived him till July 4, 1911 to be laid to rest beside him in the Cable Cemetery just a few hundreds of rods South of their retirement home.

1. Elizabeth Cable, youngest daughter of Jonathan and Elizabeth (Crise) Cable, was born at the old homestead of her parents in Pike Twp., Stark County, Ohio on July 17, 1828 near Sandyville, a very small village soon to become a prosperous Ohio Canal town. Here in this pioneer country she learned her early lessons of frugality and religion under more settled conditions than her older brothers and sisters. Routine of farm life fit her for a long useful life and rearing of a family of useful, successful children. She advanced beyond the average woman of her day in education and social accomplishments. Her first marriage came in 1847 to Oliver Weaver, son of Oliver and Azubah Weaver, a family of real Connecticut "Yankees" who migrated to Ohio from Chenango County, N.Y. about 1830. After the birth of their second child her husband died in 1850 when she returned to live with her widowed mother on the old homestead a short distance from her broken home in the village. After the loss of her son she again married Mar. 2, 1851 as her second husband John Timothy Hauser of a pioneer family of German descent and who lived in her neighborhood of Northern Tuscarawas County. John and Elizabeth Hauser settled on a farm between Sandyville and Bolivar where their family were born before they migrated to Richland County, Ill. where they lived in Clermont Twp. through their later years of life. While in Ohio, John Hauser mounted his horse and carried a gun to help capture Morgan, a raider of the Civil War who was captured in Clumbiana County near the close of the war. Elizabeth had received her father's bequest before her first marriage in form of town property in Sandyville. She active in social and church duties and served as member of school board in her home district, being the only woman member in Richland CO. More than 80 years of life came to its close on Sept. 26, 1908 when she preceded her husband in death. John T. Hauser who was born in Tuscarawas Co., O., Dec. 28, 1818 died the following year. Both were laid to rest in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery located five miles from Calhoun, Ill. and near Mt. Pleasant M.E. Church where they worshiped.

Her children by first marriage:

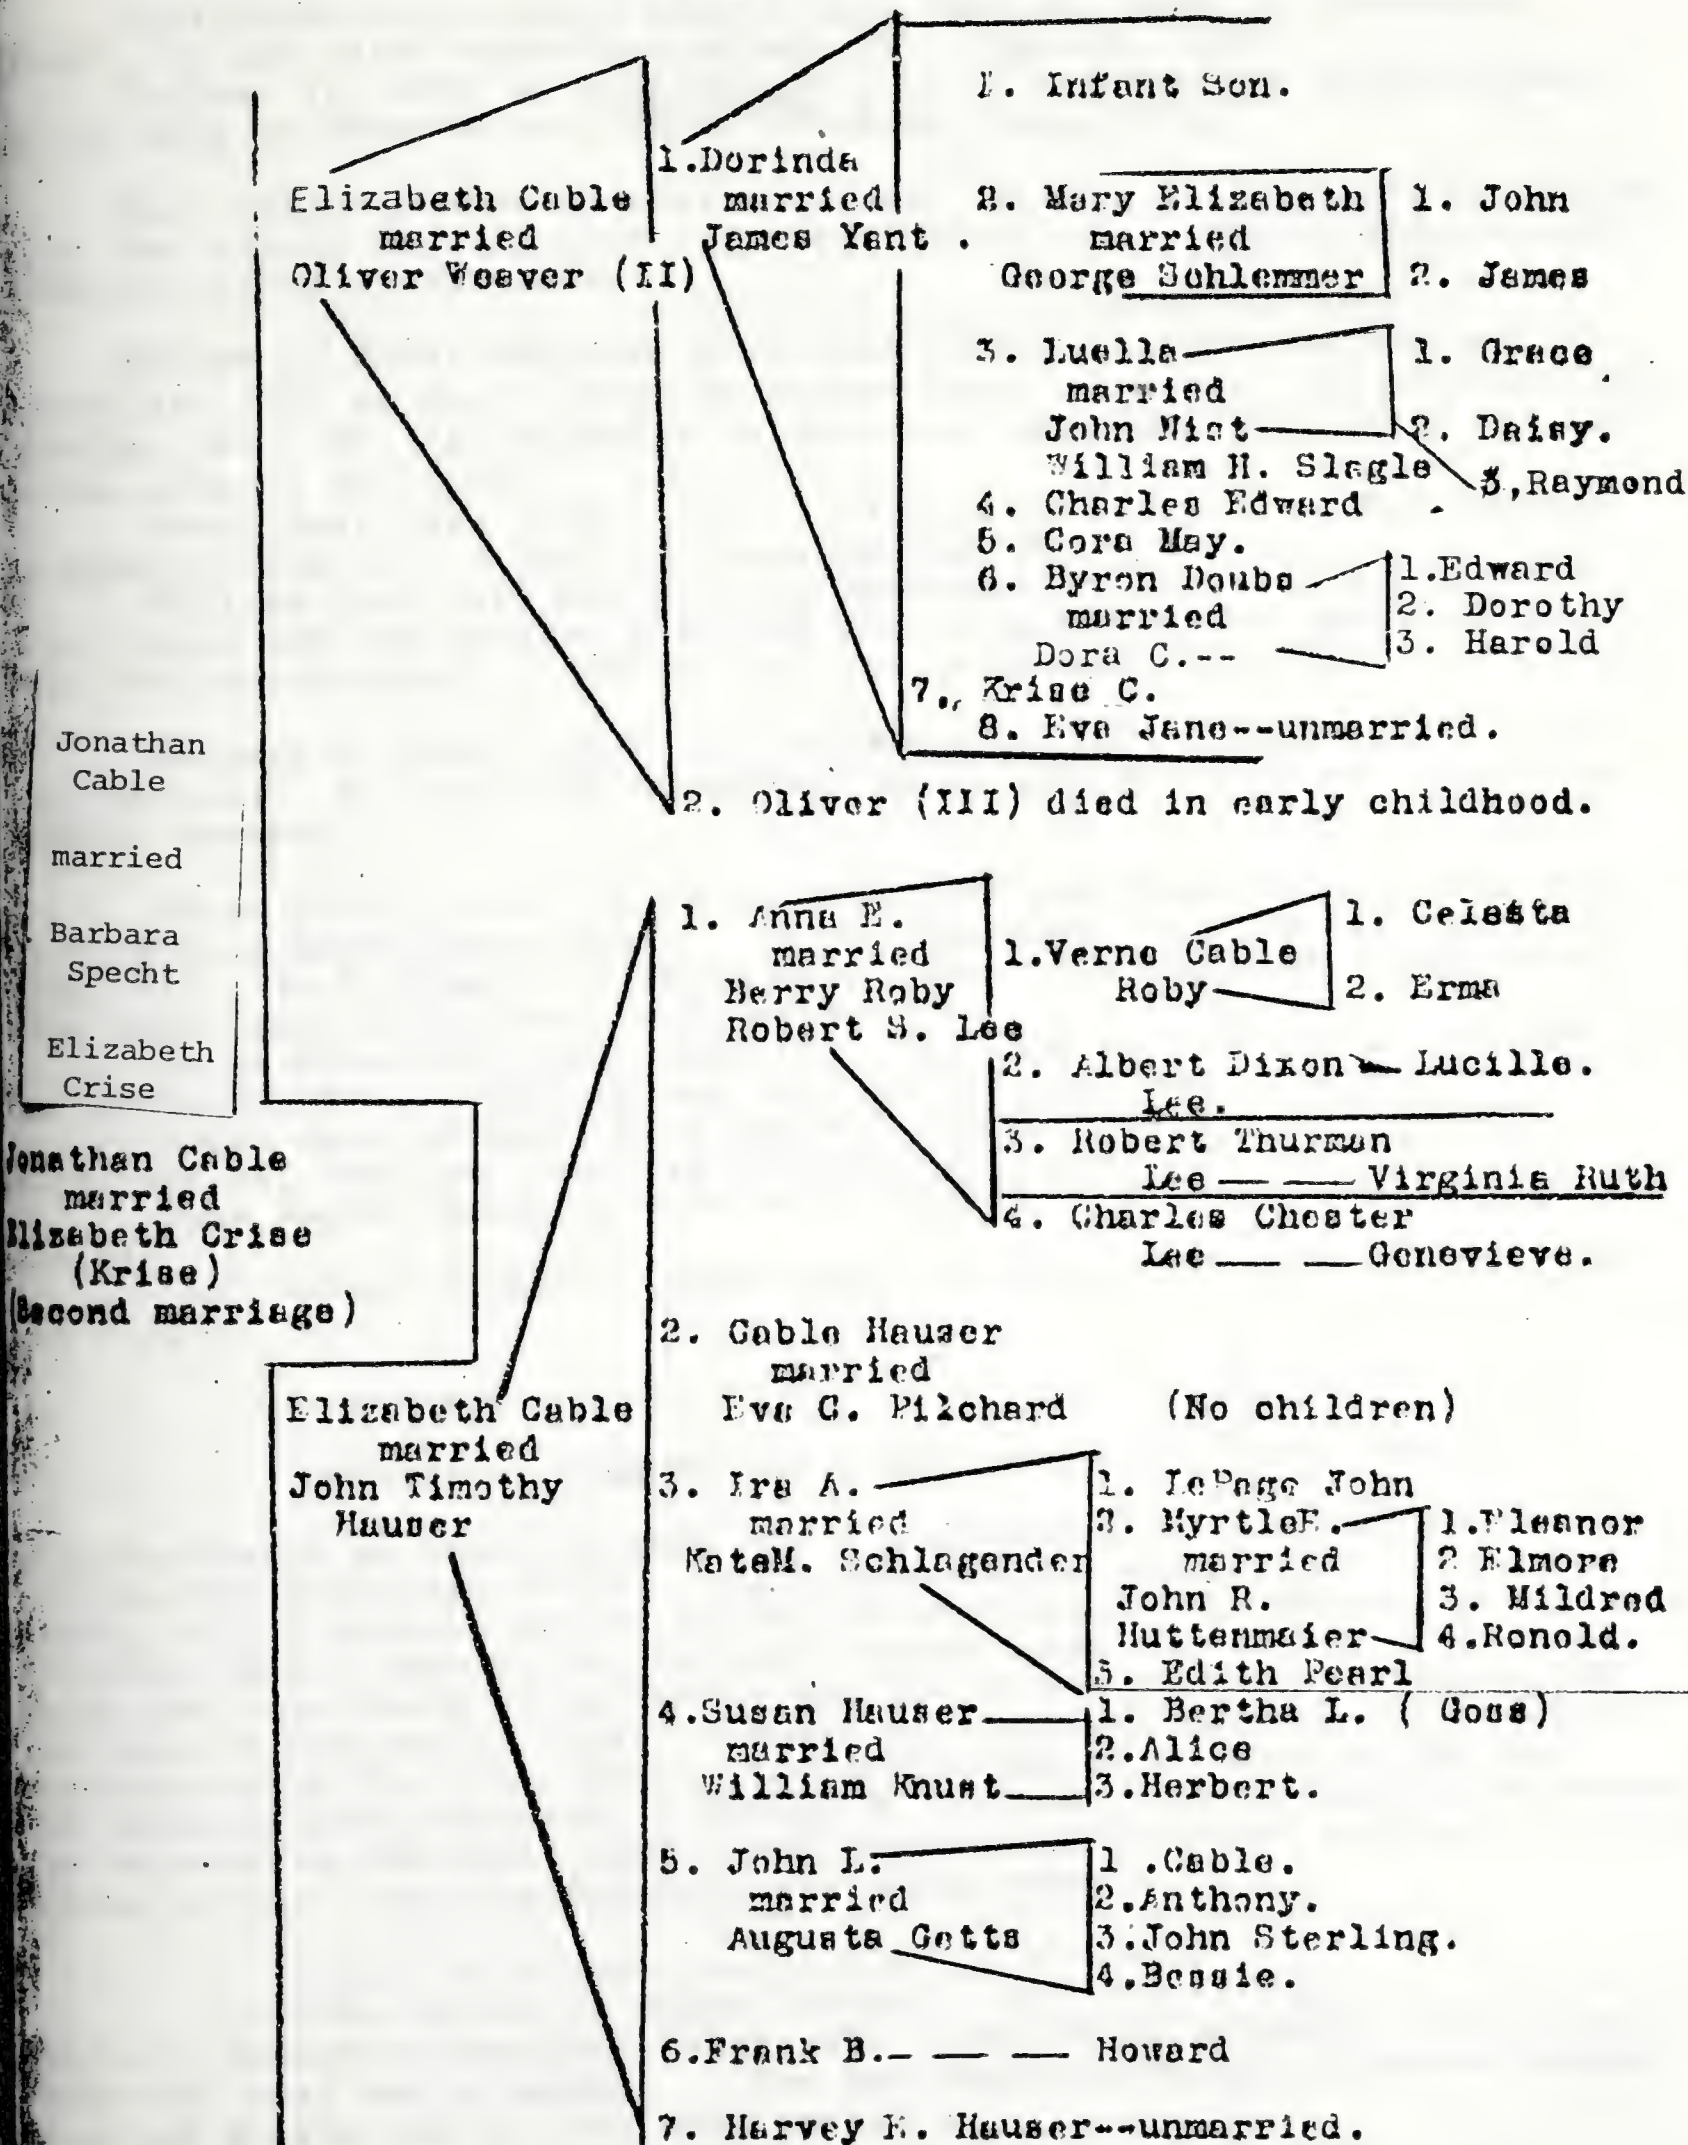

- 46--I. Dorinda, born Mar. 10, 1848; died Apr. 18, 1900.
 II. Oliver, " 1849; " in childhood.

 48--II. Cable " Feb. 19, 1854; " about 1925.
 49--III. Ira A. " Dec. 19, 1855; " Dec. 14, 1850.

JONATHAN CABLE FAMILY TREE.

Suppliment to Family Record of Elizabeth Cable Hauser.

Family Record of Susan Hauser born Oct.10, 1858 in Tuscarawas County, O. and died near West Salem, Ill., Apr.23, 1927:

On Dec. 19, 1882 in Richland Co., Ill., she married William Knust who was born in Edwards Co., Ill., Aug. 6, 1854, and died Feb.4, 1935.

Four Children came by this marriage; Bertha L., Herbert E., Alice Edith and Atwood who was born near West Salem, Ill., Apr.2, 1895 and died at the age of thirteen years.

Aug. 24, 1883

Bertha L. Knust was born near West Salem, Ill. and was married at Belleville, Ill. on Aug. 6, 1910 to Lucius Goss, born Oct. 22, 1878 at Stone Mountain, Ga. By this marriage no children were born but Hazel and Earl are two adopted children.

Hazel Goss was born, Aug. 4, 1911 in St Louis, Mo. and married Lee Barney Curry Nov. 6, 1945 in Jacksonville, Fla.

William Earl Goss was born in Jacksonville, Fla. on May 6, 1923. He is single and now resides with his foster mother after more than two years U.S. Army service, 169 Mc Duff Ave., Jacksonville, Fla.

Herbert E. Knust, born Oct. 8, 1885 near West Salem, Ill., has never married; He took up a homestead in Montana where he now lives at Chateau, Montana.

Anna Louise Metzger, born Sept. 7, 1919 at Wabash, Ind, has not married.

Paul Lester Metzger, born Sept. 19, 1923, at South Bend, Ind, is also single.

Additional Information connected to the Hauser History.

Dorinda Weaver as known by name was a half-sister to the John Hauser children by Elizabeth Cable. In U.S. Census of 1850 she is listed as living with Elizabeth Cable, mother of Elizabeth Cable Hauser, as follows; Eliza Weaver, 22, Dorinda Weaver 2 and Oliver Weaver 1. It would indicate that Eliza Weaver was the mother of Dorinda Weaver who was born in Sandyville, Tusc. County, Mar. 10, 1848, married July 24, 1866 and died April 19, 1900. Other information may be at hand in the next few weeks as more research is finished. It would appear that Eliza Weaver was related to the Cable Family and that Eliza's husband was one of Oliver Weaver's Sons. More research is now being done.

Correction to former Report.

Edith P. Hauser of Beatrice, Nebr. was reported as crippled from Rheumatic fever but that was a mistake. She was hindered by her sickness during years of growth and is just under-weight.

Compiled by Samuel E. Weaver, Hollywood, Calif.
Mar. 2, 1946.

2. Silas Cable, the youngest son of Jonathan and Elizabeth (Crise) Cable, was born at the old homestead on Jan. 3, 1833 where he spent his entire life except a few years in Canton, O. after his retirement from active farm duties. He attended country school to acquire the rudiments of education. As was the case with his brothers and sisters he was trained in the school of farm experience which fitted him for the duties of country life and helped him to rear his family along the line of the new civilization just dawning upon the pioneer sections of this new state of the Ohio River Valley and Lake Erie region. As he grew to manhood this community became prosperous by the building of the Sandy and Beaver Canal to Sandyville. His father died when he was not yet 14 years old but his younger brothers lived near to help take over farm business till he was old enough to assume the most of it. His mother was a capable woman and was yet able to manage farm business in a masterly way. The old homestead was bequeathed to his mother and him for their care and future use as a permanent possession. His mother seemed to be "a power behind the throne" so all continued to prosper as during the life of his father. He married Margaret Muckley on Sept. 13, 1854 and was now able to take over farm responsibilities even though his mother was a capable manager. However the farm remained in his mother's possession till her death in 1883. Silas soon was able to build a new house on the farm for his growing family yet his preferred to live in her cottage near by till her death. As was the custom of the Cable families, Silas worshiped in the Lutheran Church where his family became active helpers in all the activities of this church congregation. His family became worthy sons and daughters who married well and became a blessing to their parents. He retired from active farm work at a ripe old age and lived in Canton several years till his death on Apr. 10, 1916 and was survived by his wife and all his children except the eldest son and youngest daughter. His wife, Margaret, lived from Sept. 22, 1834 till Dec. 5, 1919. They rest in Westlawn Cemetery, Canton, O. where the tomb of William Mc Kinley was erected after our president's tragic death.

The youngest daughter who was injured by a run-away horse, never married.

In Remembrance with following lines:

Store up the truer wealth with honor's rule of sacred duty
 And measure every man his full worth of Christian bounty;
 Refine thy soul with burning flames of truth and love
 And ne'er forget that God keeps faithful watch above
 With his ecstatic showers of love.
 True faith must ever lead thy wandering feet and erring heart aright
 And banish darkness with its beams of morning light.

13. Jonathan Flora, a sawyer and farmer of Clear Creek Twp., Huntington Co., Ind., was born and reared in Canton Twp., Stark Co., Ohio and came to Ind. with his parents in 1848 to help them settle in the swamp lands of Clear Creek Twp. At birth he was just a small baby of two and one half pounds but grew to maturity a robust man of 250 pounds whom no rowdy ever dared to flog. He had known the Ream Family of Canton Twp. through the years of his youth as neighbors and friends. The Ream Family were early settlers in Stark County, Ohio and the name survives in the vicinity of Canton, O. to present day. At this family Jonathan Flora married Lydia Ream on Mar. 20, 1853 and settled in Clear Creek Twp. where he farmed and cleared the native forest trees which he sawed into lumber at his mill which took most of his time through the active years of his life. His wife who was born on Oct. 15, 1829, died Mar. 2, 1897, surviving him by less than four years. The family burial place is located in Clear Creek Cemetery where rest many of many of the Flora families.

Jonathan Flora was a German Saxon by both parents and left a legion of descendants, a number much larger than any of his brothers and sister. The family line of his oldest son ends with the second generation but the lines of his daughter and youngest son persist in an ever widening branch of the family tree.

His family record:

200--I. Calvin G., born Dec. 21, 1853; died Aug. 9, 1888.

201--II. Samantha A., " Apr. 8, 1856; " Nov. 1, 1918.

202--III. Marion E., " Jan. 4, 1858; " Mar. 3, 1936.

14. William Flora married Mary Reichart on Aug. 30, 1854 and settled on a farm in Clear Creek Twp. till the death of his mother when he migrated to South Western Michigan where he lived on the farm to rear a large family whose record has not been kept in order and his wife lacks a record of ancestry and dates of birth and death. Their burial place has not been reported nor has the family homestead been located by any designated town, township or county. William and David Flora married sisters before they migrated to Michigan about 1873 just after the estate of their mother had been settled. Their family record follows in probable order of birth and lacks essential dates:

I. Allis died young, Sept. 10, 1863.

II. Simon " " Sept. 30, 1863.

III. Uriah married Mary Rhodes; son William; died in 1933.

IV. Malinda " Henry Motter; children Ralph and Sola.

V. Lydia Ann " Arthur Gross; no children.

VI. Elizabeth " Roy Carmen; children Oliver, Ann, Frances

203--VII. John born Apr. 15, 1875

VII. Bertha married Robert Anderson

VIII. Adeline

IX. Louis

X. Effie

XI. Margaret

Note-- If more complete data is compiled this section will be corrected and completed as far as is possible. A correction in the numbering of this family group will make XII the last count as John and Bertha has been numbered by VII for both. No written record was found for this family so family tradition supplies this account.

5. Harmon Flora (probably Harmon S. for Harmon Smith, Daniel Flora's brother-in-law) married Elizabeth Slusser, daughter of Peter Slusser, on Mar. 8, 1853. He was a farmer in Clear Creek Twp., Huntington Co., Ind. where he died before he reached the age of middle life. One daughter, Alice C. was born after her father's death and died in early childhood when she was buried in Clear Creek Cemetery beside her father. The widowed mother and her four surviving children held the farm till 1873 when it was bought by Peter Slusser. She moved to Rochester, Ind. where the children grew to maturity and married. Her death came before the ripe years of old age and her burial place is in Rochester Cemetery where rest a mother and her oldest daughter. It is a family record without essential dates but the following list of one son and four daughters is arranged in order of births:

I. Ella married John Wagner; she died soon after marriage and left no children. Her burial is with her mother in Rochester Cemetery.

204--II. Sarah.

205--III. Edward Olonzo, born Aug. 13, 1856; died Mar. 8, 1925.

206--IV. Joana May, born Oct. 25, 1861.

V. Alice C. born Apr. 9, 1864; died Aug. 20, 1864.

6. David Flora whose name was carried down from both sides of his parent's family, married Elizabeth Raichart, sister of Mary Raichart, on Jan. 18, 1857. He was a farmer and sawyer of Kalamazoo County, Mich. The farm he bought and cleared is occupied by his son, Zebulon, at this time. His life as a sawyer left its marks on his hands and left its writing on the minds of his family. "Thrift" is written in the story of this family as told by the family record as found in the Bible kept sacred through all these years. Many pages may be added to record the lines of descent and number of generations not herein written. On the twelve branches of this family tree may be added the younger generations omitted for lack of needed time for research.

The Bible record:

207--I. Grayson, born Nov. 27, 1857.

208--II. Pearston, " Nov. 8, 1859.

209--III. Timothy Titus, born Sept. 27, 1861.

210--IV. George, born Sept. 9, 1863.

V. Edward, " July 26, 1865; died Jan. 1, 1866.

VI. Ellen, " Oct. 29, 1866; " young.

VII. Ora Grant, " Jan. 30, 1869; " "

VIII. Sherley, " Feb. 13, 1870; married Anna Beaty and left no children.

IX. Milo, born June 10, 1873, married Libby Mart and left no children.

X. Franklin, born Nov. 6, 1876, died in saw mill accident about 1890.

211--XI. Minnie, born Jan. 19, 1879.

212--XII. Zebulon " Sept. 2, 1882.

7. Joseph Flora seems to have been named for his mother's oldest brother, Joseph Cable who was editor and publisher of the "Jeffersonian" newspaper of Carrollton, Ohio at time of Joseph's birth. He married Letha Burns in Huntington Co., Ind. on Jan. 8, 1860 where he lived till about 1875 when he migrated to Casco Twp., Allegan Co., Mich. where one son and three daughters matured and married. Two daughters died young and were buried in Clear Creek Cemetery of Huntington Co., Ind. His burial place is in Stuller Cemetery in Casco Twp., Allegan Co., Michigan not far from his old farm homestead.

17. Joseph Flora

(3) Family Record:

II. Mary M. " Jan. 4, 1863; " in infancy.

214--III. Martha B. " Oct. 9, 1864.

215--IV. Ida May, " Dec. 26, 1866.

V. Anna D. " Apr. 12, 1869; " Apr. 1, 1872.

18. Benjamin Flora, a farmer of Clear Creek Twp, Huntington Co., Ind.

(3) and childhood resident of Canton Twp., Stark Co., Ohio, came to Indiana when but ten years old. He was christened Benjamin for his uncle Benjamin Cable. In his 22nd year on May 15, 1860 he married Nancy Brooks, daughter of Earl Brooks of Huntington Co., Ind. They remained residents of this county throughout life. Nancy Brooks was born July 11, 1848 and died at Gobelsville, Huntington Co. on Apr. 7, 1919 and was buried in Clear Creek Cemetery where her husband was buried 18 years before. Like the rest of this family of Saxon descent the Benjamin Flora Family were thrifty. Their family line of descent continues in the name of one daughter.

218--I. Isadore, born Oct. 4, 1867; died Sept. 22, 1910.

19. Silas Flora when a child of five years moved to Huntington Co., Ind.

(3) by covered wagon from Canton Twp., Stark Co., Ohio. He was also christened for his youngest uncle Silas Cable. He followed the life of a farmer in Huntington Co., Ind. throughout his entire life. He married Mary A. Kaylor on his 21st birthday, Aug. 9, 1863. She was a daughter of Abraham and Eliza (Stump) Kaylor of Stark Co., O. who moved to Huntington Co., Ind. in Sept. of 1852. She was born on May 17, 1844 and died in Clear Creek Center on Sept. 26, 1921.

True to the habit of life of both parents Silas Flora reared his family on the farm under religious influences of the United Brethern Church. Their family life was happy and congenial. They reared six children to maturity and lost two children in infancy.

Family record:

219--I. Asa, born Sept. 17, 1866.

220--II. Frank " Nov. 27, 1868.

221--III. Ulyssus Grant, born Feb. 17, 1870; died Mar. 5, 1946.

222--IV. Edith, born June 6, 1873.

223--V. Verna, " July 4, 1875; died Jan. 1, 1939.

224--VI. Mamie, " Mar. 16, 1881.

20. Anna Elizabeth Flora was christened with a familiar name of her

(3) mother's family, being the name of her mother's step-mother and a younger sister who named her oldest daughter Anna Elizabeth Hauser. She married Henry Burns on Feb. 12, 1865. Her life came to an early close at the birth of a son about 1866, which date has not been verified due to failure to locate a cemetery marker or locate her descendants in absence of county record or family record. Henry Burns never married but helped rear his motherless son in the homes of David and Joseph Flora of Michigan.

I. James (Dates undetermined)

James married and reared a large family as reported by Flora relatives in Michigan. He and family lived in Cadillac, Mich. for some years but they have not been located after years of searching.

Elizabeth Ann Cable, 2(a), married Frank C. Miller on Aug. 30, 1885. They were married by W.H. Biays, a justice of peace, at Bunker Hill, Kansas. Little is known of the family record of this marriage. They migrated to Colorado a few years after their marriage date and became estranged from the other branches of this Joseph Cable Family after her oldest brother, George W. Cable died in 1900. It has been reported by the Exline Family historian that the Miller Family numbered nine children but their names and other family history has not been obtained for this account. Research failed to contact any members of this Miller Family.

One son born before her marriage to Frank C. Miller must suffice for her family line of history:

- I. Charles Franklin Cable, born at Kandayohi Station, Minn. on Oct. 14, 1875, died in Russell, Kansas on Sept. 28, 1945. He was reared by his mother's sister, Emma Jane Cable, and her brothers. He married Melissa Belle Harris in Russell, Kansas on Dec. 23, 1908 and resided there till his death. He worked on the farm for many years of earlier life before he became custodian of public school buildings of Russell, Kansas, which occupation continued till his death. His wife was a daughter of Charles and Eliza (Richmond) Harris and was born at Glen Eaton, West Virginia on Apr. 9, 1882. His burial place is found in the Russell Cemetery.

They have reared a family of two sons;

1. Chester Wayne, born in Russell, Kansas on July 3, 1910, is a presser in a cleaning shop of Russell where he resides at his mother's home.

He married Florence Adeline Peck on Aug. 1, 1949. She is the daughter of Andros Clifton and Florence Fern (StJohn) Peck of Hawarden, Iowa.

They are parents of one son;

Harold Wayne, born in Russell, Kansas on June 9, 1950.

2. Clifford Franklin, born in Russell, Kansas on Aug. 18, 1916, is unmarried and resides at Hutchison, Kansas. He is secretary to the superintendent of the Kansas State Industrial School in Hutchison, Kansas.

The history of this branch of the Joseph Cable Family has been supplied by Melissa B. Cable of Russell, Kansas. She was unable to report any records of the Miller Family who had migrated to Colorado before her marriage into the Cable Family. Her husband had left no Cable Family records.

Sections Twenty and Twenty(a) are more tokens of two extended branches of the Jonathan Cable Family. The Burns Family and the Miller Family would have been glad to be named and numbered with the descendants of this worthy Saxon Ancestor. All available means of research failed to reveal the name or location of any one of the present generation of either of these two branches. The Master Hand of Mystery sealed the pages of this family history without their records, high or humble.

-----Historian.

21. (4) David Belknap married Elizabeth Kline, daughter of John Kline and Catharine Cogan, the former born Feb. 21, 1815, the latter in 1814. David Belknap spent his entire life in the immediate vicinity of Boliver, Ohio, except a few years at Sandyville, Ohio, his birth place. He possessed the Belknap homestead after the death of his mother in 1869 when he bought the shares of his brothers and sister who inherited the farm from their grandfather Jonathan Cable. David Belknap inherited some physical weakness as well as a strong Christian faith from his father. He became prominent as a farmer and resident of Tuscarawas County and was highly honored for his integrity. He reared a worthy family of three sons and three daughters all of whom married and became parents of worthy children. His death was sudden after a sunstroke while working on his farm. His family burial plot is in the Lab Cemetery near the Belknap homestead. This plot became the memorial of father and son. Elizabeth Kline Belknap was born near Boliver, Ohio on July 25, 1836 and died in the old homestead on Aug. 14, 1903. Here follows the family record:

157--I. Charles Siles,	born Apr. 6, 1853; died
158--II. Alice Cory,	" July 16, 1857;	" Apr. 6, 1915.
159--III. Flora Adel,	" Oct. 23, 1861;	" Nov. 24, 1941.
160--IV. Elmer Grant,	" Mar. 31, 1864;	" June 29, 1940.
161--V. Della May,	" May 12, 1869;	" Aug. 17, 1907.
162--VI. Ralph Herbert,	" Oct. 23, 1874;	" Nov. 28, 1930.

22. (4) Joseph Belknap married Mary Catherine Lenhart, daughter of William Lenhart and Julia Stone in Boliver, Ohio on June 1, 1875. His wife was born in Old Town Valley, Tuscarawas County, Ohio on Feb. 18, 1854 and died in Dover, Ohio in 1947. Before late marriage Joseph Belknap spent some years in Iowa, Idaho, California and other western states. He was a carpenter and building contractor who resided in Boliver, Ohio for first years of married life before he took up his final residence in Canton, Ohio. He was a kind father to his family in their Christian home and attended worship in Simpson M.E. Church in Canton, Ohio. His older children were born in Boliver, Ohio and older ones in Canton, Ohio where they received education and enjoyed social advantages of a growing city. Mary Catherine Belknap spent her many years of widowhood with her children and resided with her oldest daughter, Anna Deis, at time of her death. The family burial plot is in beautiful Westlawn Cemetery of Canton, Ohio, where rest the mortal remains of a worthy father and mother of two sons and four daughters all married except one daughter Jessie who lives with her oldest sister in Dover, Ohio.

The following birth record and sectional numbers of family history conclude another Belknap Family section:

163--I. Charles David,	born Apr. 29, 1876.
164--II. Anna Deis,	" Aug. 24, 1878.
165--III. Nina May,	" Feb. 19, 1884.
166--IV. Jessie Elizabeth,	" Mar. 24, 1889.
166--V. William Lenhart,	" Oct. 4, 1896.
167--VI. Prudence Medill,	" Jan. 4, 1899.

27. Cable Belknap married Elizabeth Tripp, daughter of Judge James Tripp and Christina Smelt of Carrollton, Ohio on Apr. 20, 1860. Elizabeth Tripp was born in Carrollton, Ohio on Mar. 25, 1836 and died near Anamosa, Iowa on Feb. 6, 1919. Cable Belknap bought land in Jackson Twp., Jones County, Iowa soon after marriage and there reared his large family among the thrifty country folks of this prosperous state. His brother Joseph and uncle David Cable helped him while erecting farm buildings. Cable Belknap inherited sterling character from his parents who descended from family lines of pioneers. He became a victim of cancer in his closing years of life which was shortened and marred by this facial blemish. Elizabeth Tripp was endowed with noble character by her noted line of parentage. A mark of excellence must be stamped upon the lives of a father and mother who labored to rear a family of such number. Their final resting place is marked in the village cemetery of Anamosa, Iowa. Of their six sons and three daughters only three sons and two daughters married all of whom left descendants except John David Belknap. The family record follows:

- I. Charles Sydney, born Jan. 27, 1861; died Sept. 17, 1940.
- II. William Tripp, " Mar. 13, 1862; " Nov. 9, 1920.
- III. Joseph Elmer, " Apr. 10, 1866; " Aug. 17, 1942.
- 168--IV. John David, " May 4, 1868; " Dec. 25, 1940.
- 169--V. Oscar W., " Mar. 20, 1870; "
- VI. Elizabeth Jane, " Nov. 20, 1871, taught schools for many years but never married. She has retired and lives in the Village of Anamosa, Iowa where she now enjoys life with friends and relatives. Through the help of herself and that of J.H. Ramsey this family record was compiled. Yet her own biography was not recounted more completely than this paragraph shows.
- 170--VII. James Samuel, born Aug. 15, 1874; died Nov. 22, 1939.
- 171--VIII. Lita Mae, " June 20, 1876; " May 25, 1930.
- 172--IX. Cora Clyde, " June 14, 1879.

28. Elizabeth Jane Belknap married Philip Kline, son of John Kline and Catherine Cogan in Boliver, Ohio in 1865. Like the Belknap Family the Kline Family were pioneers in the State of Ohio and that family name found many family records in this vicinity of the old Ohio Canal with its early influence upon the development of the Tuscawamus River and its valley. After the prosperity of this canal vicinity ceased, railroads were built, families began a wider migration. The Kline Family migrated West and North, when Philip Kline bought land in the Southern part of Michigan near Vernon where he lived and prospered. Philip Kline was born near Boliver, Ohio on June 16, 1838 and died on his farm in Nov. of 1919. The burial place of the Philip Kline Family is in Vernon, Michigan, where the son shares the plot with his parents. Both husband and wife were frugal, industrious farm folks with hope and faith in the future of man both in life and after the closing year of death. Would that their biographies could be written in full but time has already closed the record of their fruitful lives without written items of family history. Only one son was born to continue the family line of descent;

- 173--I. John Sydney, born July 15, 1866; died Feb. 24, 1944.

25. Almira Cable (5) married Lansing McKinney, son of Daniel and Hester (Guest) McKinney, in Feb. of 1866. Her husband served in the Civil War and became a life-long farmer near East Sparta, O. till his death Feb. 9, 1931. Almira's health failed early in life and her death soon followed when she was laid to rest in Greenlawn Cemetery of Sandyville, O. Her husband who had served in Company D of the 107th Ohio Regiment through most of the Civil War, soon married Sadie Miller for his second wife by whom were born Lorenzo, Olive, Frances, Florence, Mildred, Jennie, Arlene, Hobart and Lois. Lansing McKinney was born Feb. 16, 1845 and at death was buried in East Sparta Cemetery.

Her husband was born Oct. 7, 1842 and died in 1904. Susan lived into the year 1912 when she was laid to rest with her husband in Westlawn Cemetery, Canton, O.

Her husband was born in East Sparta, Feb. 18, 1840 and served in the Civil War with many other Pike Twp. draftees. His death came Dec. 29, 1917 and his burial in East Sparta Cemetery where his faithful wife rests with him since her death Jan. 3, 1933.

Their two sons and three daughters were born at or near their parents birth place:

Her husband was born on April 15, 1844 but served as a volunteer substitute in the closing year of the Civil War in Co. I of the 162nd Ohio Regiment. They resided on the same farm during their entire married life where they reared their family near Sandyville, O. Their deaths occurred in 1920 and 1921, the wife first on Aug. 3 and husband in following year on Nov. 2, whose burials were made in Greenlawn Cemetery, Sandyville, O.

Their three sons and five daughters comprised the largest group of the Samuel Cable grandchildren and are recorded on the following page:

29. Margaret Cable married William Myers Sweaney, son of William and
 (5) Sarah (Bachtel) Sweaney, 1871. They founded a home on a farm just North West of Sandyville, O. where their children were born and spent their early years of life. After they sold their farm they moved to Knoxville, Tenn. where they spent only a few years till they returned to Canton, O. where the husband became custodian of public School building in that city. William Myers Sweaney was born near Sandyville, O., Dec. 18, 1844 and died in Canton, O., Sept. 24, 1920 but his wife survived till 1927. Both rest in the Greenlawn Cemetery in Sandyville, O.

Completion of the history of the family branch comprising the descendants of Dr. Bissel Sydney Belknap and Barbara Cable Belknap.

Section 199 seems to have completed the history of the Belknap Family Branch for this history. The four main branches of this family have been carried almost completely to the present generation of its members. The David Belknap Branch seems to have but one family group left in doubt, that of Charles Silas Belknap whose descendants, if any, could not be found after a wide research had been finished.
 The Joseph Belknap Branch seems complete except for missing dates in family records. The Cable Belknap Branch has been carried down to the present-day folks with a few of these living families recorded in part.
 The Elizabeth Belknap (Kline) Branch is complete, being the least in numbers.

True to all family history writing, it is not perfect in details and composition. However, it is sufficient to carry the family outline and characteristic details down to the many generations who may follow our day and age. Many details give proof to the loyalty of the Belknaps, else this history could never be written at so late in family history. Through the help of Miss Catherine Belknap of New Philadelphia, Ohio and Miss Della Belknap of Ogden, Utah, the historian found the Cable Branch of this nation-wide family.

The records of this book will enable the later generations to organ-ize Belknap reunion societies which in turn may formulate plans for publishing a general history of all the Belknap Family groups and scattered branches.

CONCLUSION.

The family sections of the descendants of Daniel and Mary Flora end with section No. 248 as seen above. The number of the members of this branch exceed all other branches of the family of Jonathan Cable who was born at the close of the Revolutionary War of German Saxon parentage. This family branch was compiled with much difficult-finding research--too much difficulty to relate here. It was done by the loyal help of Linden Flora, Rz.F. Flora, Mrs. Mamie F. Pence, Mrs. Esther M. Stern, Mrs. Bertha I. Thompson and many others who deserve a liberal share of every reward for loyalty. Many sections are too brief to counted as real family records which are to be supplemented as more definite information become available by continued research. Necessity of fulfillment was suggested by the declining health of the historian whose eighty years of active life seemed(to)nearing the end of working days. The historian feels repaid for all time spent in research with small amounts of expense incurred. The family branches of Harmon, Joseph, Benjamin and Silas Flora are practically complete. The family of Anna Elizabeth Flora Burns is hardly a family record as found in Section 20. Let us hope and work that three family branches may be well supplemented in this or following books--Anna Elizabeth, William and David Flora. Please, let me suggest that the Flora Family groups of Indiana, Michigan and California unite in family reunion bodies to continue research and publication by organizing foundation plans for the financing and completion of their family history. Honor and dignity alone would suggest the necessity for true, complete and well kept family histories suitable to the social and civil needs of the family.

It is truly gratifying not alone to the historian but more so to every descendant of Jonathan Cable who feels the need of authentic family history made available and permanent for the many generations now living and those yet to be born, that this history has been completed as far as found in the 248 sections herein and illustrated by numerous pictures and documentary reproductions.

Thence his ancestral line includes David Barr, James Allen Barr and Harold C. Barr. The head of this Farber Family was Philip Farber, a Hessian, who came to America at time of the American Revolution, and settled in Sandy Township about 1809.

Cable Hauser taught public schools in Illinois several years before he married and migrated to the vicinity of Denver, Colorado. He lived in Colorado till the Gold Rush to the Klondike of Alaska in 1898. He remained in this gold-rush settlement of Alaska till 1908 when he settled in the Okanogan Valley near Penticton, British Columbia, Canada where he engaged in fruit growing till his death on April 19, 1925. His burial place is located in the I.O.O.F. plot of Lakeview Cemetery in Penticton, B.C. Canada.

John L. Hauser (8) (51) and his family record is reported in more accurate details than in former sections. After teaching public school many years in Illinois he returned to Claremont Township, Richland, Co. Illinois in 1903 to manage the farm business of his aged parents. The voters of this township elected him to office of supervisor and to office of assessor for succeeding terms during his stay at the home of his parents. On June 14, 1903 he married Augusta E. Goetz of his native vicinity. In this same year he was elected to the Illinois State Senate, which office he filled for four years. Soon after his election to this office they moved to Olney, Illinois where they resided till they migrated to British Columbia, Canada in 1912. Here they joined his older brother, Cable Hauser, in fruit growing. After his brother's death in 1925 he continued fruit growing till his own death on Dec. 25, 1940. His burial place is marked in Lakeview Cemetery, Penticton, B.C. Canada. Of their children the first two sons were born in Claremont Township, Richland Co. the estate of Jacob (II) No other data.
Jacob (III) was probably the husband of Frances Oakes and died soon after 1840. Two sons --
William S. and Jonathan A.

Some of the grandchildren of Jacob (II) have been registered but much research remains to do.

Most of the grandchildren of Jonathan (I) have been registered through the fifth generation.

Benjamin Cable, an older son of Jacob Cable and Mary Walker, was born in Somerset County, Penn. within the ten years just before the American Revolution, lived on a farm near Bolivar, Ohio where he died 1840. He migrated to Pike Twp., Stark Co., Ohio about 1820.

His first marriage record has not been found but he seems to have been married twice; (1) to Margaret McGuire in Penn. about 1804--(2) to Mary Parker in Tuscarawas Co., Ohio on May 17, 1831. His three sons and four daughters may never be identified by complete documentary proof. Sarah, Mary and Jacob have been definitely included in this family by the records of Stark and Tuscarawas County, Ohio. The same county records place Rachel and Eva as the two younger daughters of Benjamin Cable. Cornelius and Samuel lack documentary identification but family tradition and U.S. Census records seem to be sufficient to place them as the older sons of Benjamin Cable.

Westward migration in America brought Jacob Cable and Mary Walker from Fayette County, Penn., to Island Creek Twp., Jefferson County, Ohio (then a part of N.W.T.) in 1798. Three brothers, Jacob, Benjamin and Nathan, followed their parents Westward and settled in the Bolivar-Sandyville area of Ohio where they lived and died. Benjamin and others of his family were buried in the old Community Cemetery in Bolivar and the other two brothers in Sandyville, Ohio. No grave markers can be found for the Benjamin Cable Family.

The estate of Benjamin Cable was settled in the Probate Court of Tuscarawas County, Ohio by his son-in-law, Henry Keyser 1840 to 1844. Final account of distribution of this estate has been lost.

Here follows brief accounts of this family group, all born in Somerset County, Penn. except youngest daughter, all incomplete dates of birth being approximate:

I. Sarah (Sally) (b. 1805) married Henry Keyser in Tuscarawas County, Ohio on Oct. 5, 1828. Both lived and died in this county, and left honor- descendants among the worthy German settlers here.

II. Cornelius (b. Dec. 25, 1807; d. Mar. 22, 1880) married Margaret Mock July 5, 1809; d. April 10, 1871) in Tuscarawas County, Ohio on Jan. 13, 1835? and migrated to Kosciusko Co., Indiana in 1836 or 1837 where they reared a large family. Their family outline appears on next page.

III. Samuel (b. 1809) married Jane Teylon of Virginia about 1829. They reared a family of four sons and two daughters in Penn., Pike Twp., Stark Co., Ohio and Hancock Co., Va. Both died near Paris in this latter state. Names of their children with birthplaces and dates follows: William T. Penn, 1830; Elizabeth, Ohio, 1831; Silas, Ohio, 1833; Benjamin C., Va., 1835; Jonathan, Va., 1837; Mary, Va., 1839.

After the death of his first wife Samuel married Mary Crawford in Sandyville, Ohio, about 1870. She soon became a widow again and lived with her children by her first marriage.

Benjamin C. of this family was killed in the Civil War.

IV. Mary (Polly) (b. 1811) married Jacob Fohr in Tuscarawas County, Ohio, under latter name, on Feb. 11, 1830. They lived in this county for some years but research failed to name their children.

Jacob (b. 1813) married Frances Oakes about 1835. They reared a family of two sons in Lawrence Twp. Tuscarawas Co., Ohio near Bolivar where Jacob died before 1850. Two sons, William Sylvester (b. June 16, 1836) and Jonathan Albert (b. June 1, 1840). --the former had 4 sons and 3 daughters, the latter had 5 sons and 5 daughters. William Slutz Cable of Geneva, Ohio is of the line of William Sylvester. Jacob's widow, Fanny Cable married John Christliel in Tuscarawas County, Ohio on Mar. 8, 1854.

VI. Rachel (b. 1815) married Peter French in Tuscarawas County, Ohio on Feb. 5, 1835. Research should reveal a wide ascendancy for this family.

VII. Eva (b. 1821) married Martin Cline of Bolivar and migrated to Fulton County, Ohio. One son of this family is known--Martin, Jr. Research for this family is quite incomplete.

Comments:

This old record seems to be a land contract and deed in one.

Jonathan Cable seems to have bought this tract of land at a government sale of military land at Zanesville, Ohio in 1833 for Jacob Cable his brother. The signature of Jonathan Cabel was witnessed by Dr. B.S. Belknap a son-in-law and Samuel Cable a son of the grantor who was then living in Stark County, Ohio, just one mile North of Sandyville, Ohio, at time of execution of this deed on May 23, 1835. Dr. B.S. Belknap was practicing medicine in Sandyville, Ohio, and may have been the notary without designation as well as witness to the execution of this deed.

Joseph Cable
In Retirement.

2. Joseph Cable, a writer, publisher, jurist, and U.S. Congressman, son of Jacob and Mary (Walker) Cable, left no documentary records of his parentage or years of youth. Much research among court and other county records failed to prove his ancestry. His marker in Live Oak Cemetery, Paulding, Ohio, and his brief Bible record set his birth in Jefferson County, North West Territory, as April 17, 1801 and his death in Paulding, Ohio on May 1, 1880. The Cable Family noted of Mrs. Mary Cable Henry, granddaughter of Judge Philip Cable, furnish sufficient proof of ancestry when correlated with dates and events in the family history of other children of Jacob and Mary (Walker) Cable. It is much regretted that his brief Bible record written in his own handwriting after paralytic stroke, contains no mention of his ancestry.

May I insert here a few lines which express sincere wishes and true emotions of my heart for one whose life merits a complete and authentic account of his biography:

On pages of ancestral lines a record dims and seems amiss;
 Line by line let Truth her annals search, nor miss
 One jot or tittle proving parentage, seemingly obscure;
 Let Light with brightness flood each faded page and word to lure
 Each hidden name and place, or time, needed to reveal
 A birthright of nobility within some clan as real;
 Forbid some broken lines of ancestry, or family creeds
 To mar an illustrious life of noble thoughts and deeds.

This biographical account of his life seems void without some particulars relating to his youth, his common and higher education, his study of law and his training for the occupations of printer, writer and editor of so many newspapers. I surmise that he was learning the printing trade while working in the print shop of the Ohio Patriot in New Lisbon, Ohio, where he met the family of William and Rebecca Stallcup who lived in Madison Twp., Columbiana County, Ohio, where they had settled after migrating from Lowden County, Virginia. Ability in law was not uncommon on both sides of his ancestry. As a reader of literature there is little doubt that he was fond of the writings of Henry Fielding as portrayed in his choice of family names and his own style of writing. His busy life led onward, ever onward, in the field of journalism. He hardly realized his ability as a writer who left his standing as such to his contemporaries and following biographers.

Discrepancies in the dates of his family record seem now impossible to correct. Documentary accounts and the inscriptions upon cemetery markers of his family vary somewhat on records of dates. This type of error is not uncommon and proves the fallibility of the human mind.

The busy life of Joseph Cable can be related best by the following chronological summary:

Oct. 25, 1828, married Susannah Stallcup in Columbiana Co., Ohio.
 Aug. 30, 1828, Philip S. was born in Steubenville, Ohio.
 Year 1830, purchased a share of Republican Ledger of Steubenville.

 Year 1862, pension attorney for three-month Civil War soldiers.
 Years 1862 to 1866, edited Wauseon Republican, Wauseon, O.
 Years 1866 to 1870 " the Gazette of Paulding, O.
 Year 1869, also edited newspaper in Antwerp, O.
 Year 1870, retired from active life till his death in Paulding, O.
 on May 1, 1880.

The active, migratory life of Joseph Cable is so fully revealed by the foregoing summary that little more comment is needed to close the account of his life work laden with the fruits of an active mind and pen with a penchant not excelled by writers of his day. He was a faithful Presbyterian in religious worship and independant in politics with a leaning toward the principals of Abraham Lincoln. It will be appropriate to close this family account with a complete record:

- Susannah Stellcup, his first wife was born May 1, 1811 and died in Carrollton, O., Nov. 1, 1842.
- I. Philip C., born Aug. 30, 1826; died in infancy.
- II. Fielding Stellcup, born May 1, 1830; died in Paulding, O., Mar. ~~XX~~ 17, 1870.
- III. Elizabeth S. born Sept 3, 1853; died in Carrollton, O., in 1880.
- IV. John Ikirk, born June 21, 1835; died in Van Wert County.

- VI. Mary Susan, born Oct. 21, 1845; died in 1871.
- VII. Martha Alta California, born July 25, 1849; died in Columbus, O., Mar. 15, 1920
- Jane Watt, his second wife, born Mar. 22, 1811; died in Paulding, O., Aug. 11, 1887.

The first five Children were issue of first marriage. The last two children were of his second marriage and both married leaving one son by youngest daughter. All now deceased. All surviving lines of family descent are of the marriage of John Ikirk Cable.

11. John Ikirk Cable, a printer, soldier, married Rebecca Angelina Johnson, daughter of Davis Johnson of Van Wert County, Ohio on July 7, 1858. He learned the trade of printing while working on newspapers edited and published by his father and brother, Fielding S. Cable. The Ohio Picayune and Bay City Mirror shared in his training as well as the Jeffersonian of Carrollton, Ohio, where he was reared. He owned and printed the American of Van Wert, O. from 1857 till Spring of 1859. He next lived on the farm of his wife in Wilshire Twp., Van Wert, Co.O. when he enlisted for service in the Civil War in Company E, 52nd Ohio Volunteer Infantry for three years. He began service with Army of Cumberland at Lexington, Ky. on Aug. 22, 1862. He served with his company in front at Chattanooga, Tenn. and through the war till fall of Atlanta on July 22, 1864. He was honorably discharged on June 3, 1865. His life has been a life of varied occupations; teaming, owner of delivery line, trustee of Pleasant Twp. for six years, assessor for four years and enumerator of his township for U.S.Census of 1890. He served his local G.A.R. as commander and the K. of P. Lodge as master of its exchequer. In religion he was a Methodist, in politics a Republican. His middle name seems to have come down from a prominent family of Columbiana County, Ohio where a Dr. Ikirk was a leading physician. His life came to its close on Jan. 2, 1921 in Van Wert, O. where he was laid to rest in Woodland Cemetery.

The issue by this marriage is recorded as two sons and four daughters:

35--I. Davis Joseph, born in Wilshire Twp., Van Wert County, Ohio on Aug. 11, 1859; died in Lima, O. on May 18, 1924.

REVIEW of SECTIONS ----- of ----- JOSEPH H CARL BRANCH.

This branch has been mainly composed of lawyers, jurists, U.S. Congressmen, editors and publishers of newspapers, civil and mechanical engineers and accountants. Many of the present generation have become professional by college and university education. Many have inclined towards industrial organization and management. Only one branch of the Joseph Cable Family now carries the family line of descent forward. Three counties of Ohio--Paulding, Allen and Van Wert--contained the homes of the earlier generations of this branch, now scattered into several states. The family record of Mary Susan Cable alone remains incomplete. She married E.W. Blizzard of Fulton County, Ohio, by whom a son and a daughter were born before her death in 1871. It now seems likely that both of her children died in infancy. E.W. Blizzard married Priscilla Falor of Fulton County, Ohio in 1877. Research may yet clear up and complete the family record of Mary Susan Cable. Her children, if living, deserve their names enrolled with their mother's line of ancestry. Saxon traits of character have followed the members of this branch to present generation.

Documentary proof of the parentage of Joseph Cable has not been found but court records of wills and settlements of estates furnish clues to his ancestry. The records of Stark County, Ohio supply the records of Jonathan Cable and Tuscarawas County, Ohio, furnishes the settlement of estate of Jacob Cable. The burial places of both brothers may be found in Sandyville, Ohio. The early life of Joseph Cable has not been told by any writers of his biography. The early years of Ohio History were not opportune to high social and educational attainments of its young men and women. Their rude homes and quaint firesides only emphasized the rule of life in every family--work from sun-up till sun-set. Joseph Cable shared the humbler things in life till he began reading law in Canton, Ohio, and learned the trade of printing. His early life tempered his soul for its onward march to eminence.

KABLE FAMILY RECORDS

by
Hazel Kable Zimmerman

Immigrants Kaspar Kabel, age 19, and his brother Daniel, age 16, came to America in 1750 on Ship Brothers, signing the oath of allegiance to the British at Philadelphia August 24. These young men were born at Weinheim, Germany, sons of Nicolaus Kabel and his "Ehefrau" Sabina Catharina Artz. They had one older brother named Friedrich, born in 1721, and two sisters. The father Nicolaus was born at Brensbach in the Odenwald on July 1, 1686, the son of Hans and grandson of Leonhard Kabel, Burgermeister of Brensbach, who died there Feb. 14, 1676. This is the earliest date for the family in the books of the Lutheran Church at Brensbach.

The immigrant brothers were first taxed in Bethel and Heidelberg Townships of Berks County, Pennsylvania; but baptismal records of Kaspar's first seven children by wife Susanna, are in the records of Rev. John Waldschmidt of Lancaster County, just across the border. These records of Kaspar's children are in Penn. Archives, 6th Series, Vol. 6, as follows: Abraham 1753, twins Jacob and Isaac 1755, Magdalena 1757, Susanna 1759, Elizabeth 1761, and Daniel 1763. Kabeltown, W. Va. was named for Daniel (1763-1823), and his grandson Capt. Wm. Hartman Kable was the founder of Staunton Military Academy at Staunton, Virginia.

The above named children are listed with eight others in Kaspar's will on file at Sunbury Court House in Northumberland County, Penn., where Kaspar had settled prior to the birth of his son Frederick on July 7, 1774. Another son, Joseph, was born August 3, 1776; but no birth dates have been found for two sons, Bernet and Christian, and four daughters, - Anna Maria, Christina, Catharina and Frena. Frederick and Joseph were sons of the third wife, "born Katharina Schafer of Zweibrucken, Germany". Kaspar's second wife was Anna Maria, daughter of Jacob Riehl, whom he married Oct. 31, 1768. Kaspar's daughters married as follows: Magdalena to Adam Leffler; Elizabeth to John Dunkelberger; Anna Maria to John Frantz; Christina to John Wolf; Catharina to Christian Beshler (1) and Abraham Wertzel (2); Frena to Bredy; and Susanna was single at date of the will, June 14, 1810. Two children were deceased before that date; Isaac and Frena. Kaspar died in March of 1815.

The immigrant Daniel Kabel was married March 15, 1768 to Barbara Dautrich, by whom he had four sons; Adam, Nicholas, John and Daniel, and three daughters; Eve, wife of John Jacob Fmerick; Elizabeth, wife of Martin Sortsman, Jr.; and Barbara, wife Henry Kreps. Later descendants of immigrant Daniel (1734-1802) have not been traced.

Descendants of three sons of Kaspar have been traced to the present time: Daniel (1763-1823) of Kabeltown W. Va.; Frederick (1774-1861) of Northumberland Co., Penn., who died at the home of his son John near Kabeltown, W. Va.; and Joseph (1776-1872) whose grave is near Clay City, Indiana.

Daniel (1763-1823) married Mary Hartman Rice; they had eleven children: Jacob 1785, Daniel 1788, Elizabeth 1793 (m. Berry), John 1795, Margaret 1796 (m. Heedwohl), Mary Ellen 1798 (m. Johnston), Samuel 1801, Sarah 1803 (m. Edmonds), James 1805, Dr. William 1809, Benjamin 1812. John (1795-1857) was father of Capt. Wm. Hartman Kable (1837-1912), founder of Staunton Military Academy. Benjamin's grandson, David (1866-1938) founded a chain of twenty five Kable Restaurants in Ohio, Ind. and N.Y.

Frederick (1774-1861) had five sons who shared in his estate: Samuel 1802, John 1809, Jacob 1815, Isaac 1821, Christian 1823. Jacob and Isaac stayed in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania; John had an estate, "The Hermitage" near Kabletown W. Va.; Samuel, a wagonmaker, was in Marion Co., Ohio in 1850; Christian moved to Carroll Co., Illinois in 1866. Christian's eldest son, John A. (1847-1919), a carpet weaver, was the father of identical twins, Harvey Jerry and Harry George, who built the large printing plant at Mount Morris, Illinois. About 1910 they started work on a family history which in recent years has been carried on by a younger sister, Mrs. Hazel Kable Zimmerman. The surviving twin, Harry George, is listed in the 1949 edition of "Who is Who in America". His first cousin, George W. Kable, only son of Cyrus (1859-1928) is also nationally known as editor of "Electricity on the Farm", with office in New York City.

As far as can be determined, Joseph (1776-1872) had four sons and three daughters, some of whom use the spelling Kauble, others Cable. Christian (1810-1860) had 1200 acres in Ralpho Twp., Northumberland Co., Penn. and was a farmer and clockmaker; Daniel (1814-1889), Abraham (b. 1807) and Barnhart (1822) moved to Ohio and Indiana.

Descendants of these three sons of of the immigrant Kaspar Kabel are scattered all over the United States of America. It is impossible to begin to list in a short sketch even those who have been located, but we are grateful to Mr. Samuel E. Weaver for this space in his History.

There are some of the Kabel Family still living in Breitenbrunn in the Odenwald in the Rhine Valley, not far from Darmstadt, Germany. Of this branch, John Kabel (1844-1909) came to Dayton, Ohio in 1877, whose son, John (1879-1945) was nationally known as a scenic photographer, whose art was used by many American magazines. Difference in spelling is just that Kabel has German ending and Kable has the English ending.

Another immigrant Daniel Kable, a shoemaker from Hechingen, district of Saarbrücken, West of the Rhine, came to America in the Autumn of 1846. His grandson, Rev. George Philip Kable (1876-1940) was prominent in the United Lutheran Church, and his two sons, David and Martin, are also ministers of this church.
